“ The deck is stacked. The game is rigged. Welcome to the Deep Medical State.

As in any truly deep operation, only a small number of elite professionals understand the basic con. The rest are blind, and accepting. Some are willfully blind. They see the truth in a flash of insight, and then they shut up.

However, in this mad 'COVID landscape,' minds and doors are opening. The hypnotic haze is receding. The truth is coming out. Doctors, scientists, reporters, and members of the public are discovering and rejecting the Big Con. ”

INTRODUCTION

by Catherine Austin Fitts

“ Beware of the lies and false prophecies
We are many with eyes but don't all really see
You must be merciful, my friend, to obtain the same
So if you break the chain don't pass the blame

We should say unto all and I'll say it again
It's not just to win, shake a hand, make a friend
We who are pure at heart somehow might see
There's still light in the world, come rejoice with me
It's a new day. ”

~ Curtis Mayfield, “New World Order”

Throughout the events of 2020, we have been blessed by some of the most extraordinary leadership of this century. People of great intelligence, courage, and moral authority have extended themselves to stand for scientific and medical integrity and freedom. They have risked their good name and fortune to ensure that the Covid-19 killing fields are stopped and are not used to justify inappropriate state powers. They are scientists, doctors, lawyers, journalists, government officials, and activists from across the world. No matter how bad we may think our situation is, it would be far worse if not for their powerful intervention.

Take a look at the leaders we have named as Solari Pandemic Heroes—these are just a few of the many courageous and capable leaders among us.

Since March, The Solari Report has published the best coverage we and our networks identified on the Covid-19 pandemic—including articles and interviews by the Solari Pandemic Heroes as well as excellent letters and ideas provided by our subscribers.

As time has gone by and our choices for books, articles, and videos have rolled off of the Solari home page, many busy subscribers missed great items or forgot they were there. We decided to gather them together in one guidebook to ensure that you have easy access to the full collection.

These materials are helpful to communicate with family and friends about what is happening. It is also inspiring to see—all in one place—the many excellent people fighting to protect our health, our human rights, and our liberties. The power of their combined experience and intelligence is a great confidence booster.

I have named this 2nd Quarter 2020 Wrap Up theme The Injection Fraud, after my article of the same name. That is because a primary goal of this pandemic and future engineered crises—and of central banking powers—is to install and update “the software of life” in our bodies through mandated injections, tests, other nonconsensual procedures, and secret ingredients so that we can be connected to government-funded clouds managed with AI through digital systems. Those backing this agenda intend to use viruses to justify these installations in humans, just as viruses were used to justify computer software updates that permitted compromise of and covert access to our digital systems.

Fraudulent injections (they are not medicine) are at the heart of reengineering the financial system for the Internet of Things (IOT). Mr. Global wants to implement transhumanism—on a nonconsensual basis—to build the train tracks of the smart grid literally into our bodies and our minds. This is part of the “global reset” reengineering of the global financial system that we have covered regularly in our weekly Money & Markets commentaries and in The State of Our Currencies.

This is the most significant violation of the Nuremberg Code in modern history.

We face numerous obstacles in getting the truth about Covid-19 to go “viral” and preventing the abuse of state and public health powers. One obstacle is the accumulated secrecy from decades of central bank and military-industrial operations and these groups’ command of near-infinite financial resources as a result of the financial coup d’état engineered since 1998 and made permanent by FASAB 56 in 2018. Another significant obstacle is mind control and the invisible technologies that make it possible—with the increasingly synergistic use of digital systems, AI, and media to influence and manipulate each individual’s opinions and actions. For Mr. Global (my nickname for the committee that runs the world), mind control technologies are essential to protect accumulated secrets and secret profits and assets as well as for fielding and managing ongoing operations.

Secrecy is expensive and challenging to manage, however. Imagine a symphony orchestra that has practiced and played in the dark for decades, if not centuries. Imagine maintaining morale and profitability under such circumstances. Or imagine a bumper car amusement park ride where everyone has to ride in total darkness. It would not be much fun.

Now imagine running an entire planet this way. Mr. Global can see everything. The intelligence is then adjusted for a handful of people who work for Mr. Global. They can each see what is in their limited area, but almost everyone else walks around in ignorance.

Look around you. This is what it is happening. This is what it feels like.

In “Lockdown Lunacy 3.0: It’s over,” published on July 28, J.B. Handley described survey findings showing that millennials are dramatically overestimating their risk from Covid-19. Handley then wrote:

“I thought that survey was bad enough, but a different survey by Kekst CNC asking different questions revealed a simply astonishing figure: Americans over-estimated the TOTAL number of compatriots who have died from COVID-19 by 200-fold! When asked the question (in mid-July), “How many people in your country have died from the Coronavirus?”, Americans responded “9%,” which would be roughly 30,000,000 people, versus the actual number of 151,000. No wonder people are panicked (and wildly, wildly misinformed).”

In August, after Handley published these comments, the CDC revised its death statistics. According to these revisions, approximately 9,500 people died of Covid-19. The rest of the recorded deaths reflected comorbidities. That means that Americans’ assessment of Covid-19 deaths actually represents more than a 3,000-fold overestimate.

Except that it is even worse than that. As Jon Rappoport has pointed out repeatedly in his presentations published by The Solari Report—“Creation of a False Epidemic, Parts I-VI,” “2nd Quarter Wrap Up – The Injection Fraud, Parts I and II,” and “The Magic Virus” (recorded for the Perseus Verlag Workshop in Basel)—no one has yet proven that there is a new coronavirus, let alone that it is causing the deaths attributed to it. Others argue persuasively that we are dealing with one or more weaponized pathogens.

Is this possible? Is it possible that we live in a world where the American people believe that 30,000,000 of their countrymen have died from a non-existent virus or manufactured pathogen, when in fact somewhere between zero and 10,000 have died from some form of hypoxia? Remember, we are not yet sure what exactly Covid-19 is and what is causing it. We only know that doctors who figure out how to heal it quickly and inexpensively in its early stages, with longstanding and widely used medicines and vitamins, are often targeted and stopped—and that U.S. biowarfare programs have been funding engineered pathogens in the U.S. and Wuhan, China.

Some of the most astonishing video footage recorded in the last year was at the meeting of global vaccine program heads in Switzerland in December 2019. As the video laid out for all to see, the meeting showed that there was no science to support the safety or efficacy of any one vaccine, let alone the chemical cocktail of multiple vaccines injected into children’s bodies. Could things really be this bad? Have we really gotten this far—with billions of dollars invested in global vaccine programs—without any science to support what we are doing? The answer is yes; not only could the situation be this bad, but it is.

The number-one concern I hear from Solari Report subscribers relates to their encounters with various forms of propaganda, disinformation, and mind control ingested by family, friends, colleagues, and neighbors. Increasingly, we find our networks divided according to the levels of mind control ingested and hours spent in TV and smartphone trances.

We feel the heartbreak of having to let go of friendships that used to mean so much to us; of children who are no longer safe to have in our homes due to radical changes in behavior, including violent outbursts. They have been trained by Antifa-type networks online how to bully their parents. We also feel shock when we realize that our neighbors are making money by snitching on us.

A subscriber who attended the August protests in Europe wrote to me afterwards:

"It was wonderful. I met fantastic people and connected with the local resistance. What a breath of fresh air! There was true brotherhood and open dialogue amongst informed and warm-hearted people. The only thing that left me absolutely puzzled and quite concerned was Antifa attacking violently an innocent man [...] with whom I talked afterwards who obviously did not do anything to provoke anybody. I also talked with some Antifas, and they all told me they have seen the guy doing a Hitler salute. I can categorically exclude the possibility that this was the case. They used chairs and bottles to attack a guy that did NOTHING. It is hard to wrap my mind around what I had witnessed. My impression of those fascist Antifas is that they are mind-controlled to a phenomenal degree. It almost seemed like they were in a collective trance, a state of hallucination, an extreme disconnection from reality. I was never that flabbergasted. What is clear: they are clearly hundreds of miles closer to fascism than any other people I've encountered in my life!"

My correspondent describes a world in which a group of well-financed, mind-controlled activists "see" something together that is not, in fact, there. They really believe they are seeing it. In their mind, they well may be. They have crossed the line between human and weapon.

Increasingly, people are being weaponized in this way. We are navigating a political Pokémon game in which people can see things that do not exist and may be provoked to hate, harm, and kill. The bottles and chairs used to attack the innocent European protestor could have fallen the wrong way—he could have been blinded, disabled, or murdered.

Welcome to WWII—a war, unlike the first two world wars, fought first and foremost in intimate, invisible space. How do we understand and break through the mind control? This is one of the most important unanswered questions before us.

Sofia Smallstorm writes in her latest newsletter about the process by which the U.S. government moved the Indians off their land, while also depopulating sizable numbers. In her description of the Comanches, referring to the book Empire of the Summer Moon by S.C. Gwynne, she describes the challenge that they faced. They could not overcome the government's superior technology. One reason was that they could not fathom that such technology existed. As in the tale of exterminating Indian tribes by trading blankets laced with smallpox or other pathogens, this inability to appreciate "invisible enemies" is an old challenge:

"With their food and shelter source slaughtered and carried off on train cars and the white man's technological supremacy surpassing their every defense, the Comanches were forced into submission. Reading Gwynne's profound book, it dawned on me that we—the ordinary people of today—are facing technologies as unfathomable as the white man's were to the Comanches. We are the Comanches in this picture. Nanobiotech, with the blessing of the Technocratic parent, is insatiably eager to own us, our lands, our foods, our lives. This is the new Manifest Destiny. We may be content with our lot and proud of our accomplishments, but the hungry wolf isn't. And most of our fellows have no idea of Technocracy's intentions, might, agenda and superhuman power. It's really that stark. We are being dispossessed, just as the Comanches were, of all that we have claim to, including our minds and resilience and immune systems, control of which the nano-bio-mRNA-vaccine-monster ravenously seeks."

Avatar Update, July/August 2020*

It is time for those of us who want to maintain our health and freedom to determine how we break through the mind control that we and those we love are subjected to. If we can, our next step must be to bring transparency to the additional invisible technologies (and the people who own and control them) being used across the planet to engineer disaster capitalism, shut down our businesses, and move us off our land. Many of these technologies have been developed behind the secrecy veil of the black budget. Thus far, it has not been socially acceptable to discuss many of them. Let's make it socially acceptable not only to discuss the technologies, but to publicly identify the people using them and their resulting profits.

My pastor in Washington would always say, "If we can face it, God can fix it." According to a Yahoo News/YouGov poll (reported on May 22), 44 percent of Republicans believe that Bill Gates plans to use a mass Covid-19 vaccination campaign as a pretext to implant microchips in billions of people and monitor their movements. That tells me that the work of the courageous people described herein is making a difference—but also that we have more of a distance to go. So, let's double down on widening the discussion of the real risks we face.

After tracking numerous politically engineered epidemics, Jon Rappoport reminds us that whatever is happening, it is never just one thing. There are always multiple causes and multiple agendas.

In Jon's interviews with "Ellis Medavoy" (a pseudonym), a retired public relations pro whose speciality was engineering fake news, Jon explores this tactic of oversimplification again and again. Here is one excerpt:

Here is what he meant, and what I confirmed with him point by point: AIDS is a label given to a whole variety of disease conditions THAT ARE CAUSED BY DIFFERENT THINGS. Not HIV. Not HIV in any way, direct or indirect. What is called AIDS is immune suppression. This immune suppression can result from different causes in different groups and, ultimately, in different individuals. Some of the many causes—contaminated heroin, medical drugs (such as corticosteroids), starvation, contaminated water supplies, toxic pesticides, intestinal parasites grossly overtreated with massive doses of antibiotics, syphilis, massive drug taking, say, in the form of MDA—combined with months of bathhouse sex with many partners, vaccines given to people whose immune systems are already dangerously compromised. There are other causes.

Medavoy's propaganda work was aimed, in particular, at masking the continuing causes of death on the African continent—starvation, contaminated water supplies, theft of agricultural lands, and so on. Gradually, these obvious factors would be replaced in the public consciousness with a new buzz-term, HIV. As the real causes of death were allowed to flourish, depopulation would begin to overtake the population growth.

Medavoy worked on the entirely bogus green-monkey theory of AIDS.

“The green monkey,” Medavoy told me, “was a myth invented to attribute the origin of HIV to Africa. It was understood that if HIV could be said to have come from Africa, then people would believe the outrageous estimates and projections for future AIDS deaths IN Africa. You know, darkest Africa, where strange and bad things lurk. We played that nonsense like a harp. The green monkey never even carried HIV—of course who cares because HIV causes nothing anyway. But the whole deal about those monkeys was really about lab monkeys in Boston who were found to have a virus ‘similar’ to HIV—and lab contamination was where that ‘similar’ virus actually came from. We knew way ahead of time—as we propounded the early green-monkey story—that it was monkeys in labs we were really talking about. We were talking about stupid and careless research in labs, and we were transferring that whole business into a ridiculous myth about Africa. The story was about as real as the moon being made of cheese.”

~ Jon Rappoport,
“Depopulation and HIV,” 2003

While Covid-19 deaths in the United States may be 9,500, health issues and falling life expectancies are widespread problems. People are suffering and dying from serious illnesses, stress, and risks—at least 54% of American children have chronic diseases. Childhood autism rates continue to climb in the U.S. and in the developed and developing world alike.

On The Solari Report, we have described many causes of illness and falling life expectancy—including poor water quality, GMO food, spraying, pesticides, vaccines, pharmaceutical drugs, and EMF radiation—capturing them under the umbrella of “the great poisoning.” With Covid-19, further threats are emerging. Although it is hard to gauge the reliability of global reports of famine and malnutrition, I am confident the numbers have risen dramatically since the imposition of economic shutdowns attributed to Covid-19. One recent report claims that unemployment has increased by 300 million globally since March. Then, of course, there are the pervasive problems of war, pollution, and poor water and sewer systems. In the face of what is really happening, our obsession with Covid-19 is both a simplifier and a distraction. It is a powerful part of the mind control.

Successful revolutions begin with those magical few words, “How can I help?” Please consider the leaders we named as Solari Pandemic Heroes—these are just a few of many faithful, courageous, and competent leaders among us. Taking effective action can be as simple as supporting some of the leaders on that list and inviting others to do the same. We can also support the leaders visible among us in our own communities. If we each do what we can—if we each donate our time, insights, and money as we can—a mighty army will gather. If you don’t believe me, refer back to my 2019 interview with Thomas Meyer about the Story of Gideon.

Now is the time that you and I are called to fight back. This 2nd Quarter 2020 Wrap Up: The Injection Fraud – A Sane Person’s Guidebook to the Global Pandemic provides you with intelligence to help you do so.

Let me close by quoting the words of Leonard Cohen when he sang in grief at the beginning of the Iraq War: “There’s a crack in everything. That’s how the light gets in.”

I wish you good hunting.

A. Solari Pandemic Heroes

*“Near the snow, near the sun, in the highest fields,
See how these names are fêted by the waving grass
And by the streamers of white cloud
And whispers of wind in the listening sky.
The names of those who in their lives fought for life,
Who wore at their hearts the fire’s centre.
Born of the sun, they travelled a short while toward the sun

~ Stephen Spender, “The Truly Great”

There are many heroes who have made an extraordinary difference in our lives in 2020. Every lie, every corrupt act, and every bit of fake news and fake science has been met and bested by the fiercely intelligent, experienced, and courageous leaders among us. Progress comes from celebrating and supporting these pandemic heroes and the leaders in our own communities and networks who have stood between us and a tsunami of lies.

Doctors

Medicine is a field that requires facts and accurate intelligence. This is why cooperation and communication are so important—but they require high trust based on competency and ethics.

The most powerful obstacle to the lies of the Covid-19 pandemic has been experienced doctors who have communicated their on-the-ground observations in the face of intense political pressure to silence them—including the threat of being fired from their place of employment. To paraphrase Dr. Stella Immanuel's retort to a Houston journalist who tried to intimidate her by stating that she could lose her medical license if she did not toe the CDC line, Dr. Immanuel said, "How many patients should I let die, so I can keep my license?" That shut him up.

Whatever the death count from fake science and fake news, it would be much worse if not for the courage of these and many other doctors.

Dr. Stoian Alexov is a pathologist and president of the Bulgarian Pathology Association. He reported that he and his colleagues across Europe have not found any evidence of any deaths from the novel coronavirus. He has called the World Health Organization (WHO) a "criminal medical organization" for creating worldwide fear and chaos without providing objectively verifiable proof of a pandemic and has stated that he believes it is currently "impossible" to create a vaccine against the virus.

Dr. Jeff Barke is a family doctor and co-founder of PersonalCare Physicians in Newport Beach and Irvine, California. He is a former associate clinical professor in the Department of Family Practice at the University of California-Irvine School of Medicine and a former member of the Board of Directors of the Orange County Medical Association. His video recording, which commented on Covid-19 policies based on his experience with patients, was a valuable contribution to practitioners around the world.

Dr. Peter Breggin has been called "The Conscience of Psychiatry" for his many decades of successful efforts to reform the mental health field. Please watch Truthstream Media's The Minds of Men to appreciate the extraordinary contributions Dr. Breggin has made to bring transparency to and protect us from mind control technologies. His weekly "Dr. Peter Breggin Hour" has been a thoughtful source of information during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Dr. Thomas Cowan is co-author with Sally Fallon Morell of The Contagion Myth: Why Viruses (including "Coronavirus") Are Not the Cause of Disease. Other recent thoughtful—and thought-provoking—books by Dr. Cowan include Human Heart, Cosmic Heart (2016), Vaccines, Autoimmunity, and the Changing Nature of Childhood Illness (2018), and Cancer and the New Biology of Water (2019). During the year of Covid-19, Dr. Cowan has been instrumental in calling the germ theory into question and focused early attention on the potential impact on the general population of the rollout of 5G and other forms of wireless radiation.

Dr. Dan Erickson is a physician and co-owner of Accelerated Urgent Care in Bakersfield, California. Dr. Erickson and his partner Dr. Artin Massihi gave a press conference in April 2020 in which they shared their clinical experience with Covid-19, arguing that actual experience with patients did not support a lockdown policy. Dr. Erickson also joined America's Frontline Doctors at their July, 2020 press conference in Washington, DC and subsequent interviews.

Dr. George C. Fareed is a Family Medicine Specialist in Brawley, California. After successfully treating Covid-19 patients with hydroxychloroquine, zinc, and azithromycin, Dr. Fareed and his colleagues Dr. Michael Jacobs and Dr. Donald Pompan wrote an open letter to Dr. Fauci challenging his position on treatment and lockdowns.

Dr. Simone Gold is a Los Angeles emergency medical specialist and the founder of America's Frontline Doctors, which organized a Washington, DC press conference in July to underscore the fact that there was no need for Covid-19 shutdowns. Facebook and YouTube censored the press conference video after tens of millions of views on both platforms.

Dr. Stella Immanuel is a primary care physician at the Rehoboth Medical Center in Houston who, as a member of America's Frontline Doctors, described her success using hydroxychloroquine with Covid-19 patients. Dr. Immanuel was trained in Nigeria and is familiar with the use of hydroxychloroquine and related medications in the prevention and treatment of malaria in Africa. Dr. Immanuel is also the founder and pastor of Fire Power Ministries in Houston.

Dr. Ivette C. Lozano was born in Havana, Cuba. A "political refugee," she immigrated as a child with her family to Texas. Trained in general surgery, she is the founder of the Lozano Medical Clinic, an urgent care center in Dallas. She has been an advocate for the use of hydroxychloroquine for Covid-19 and has publicly expressed frustration with—and questioned the medical ethics of—denying access to hydroxychloroquine.

Dr. Didier Raoult is a French physician and microbiologist specializing in infectious diseases. He teaches infectious diseases in the Faculty of Medicine of Aix-Marseille University and is the director of the Unité de Recherche sur les Maladies Infectieuses et Tropicales Emergentes (Research Unit on Infectious and Emerging Tropical Diseases). Dr. Raoult promoted hydroxychloroquine as a treatment for Covid-19 early on, later replicating his pilot results with great success.

Dr. Heiko Schöning is one of the founding members of Germany's ACU2020 group, along with Dr. Bobo Schiffmann and Dr. Martin Haditsch. The group has called for an investigation into the WHO's actions over the virus and for free and open debate on what is happening.

Dr. Sherri Tenpenny is well known for her work protecting children from vaccine death and injury. She has done over 100 public interviews and many more prayer groups and intercessions since the Covid-19 pandemic began. Dr. Tenpenny conducted and published an extensive review of the scientific literature on masks and has made a unique effort to understand how pandemic policies dovetail with the global financial reset.

Dr. Andrew Wakefield is a British physician turned filmmaker whose 1995 publication in The Lancet, "Is measles vaccination a risk factor for inflammatory bowel disease?" set off a firestorm. Dr. Wakefield created and directed Vaxxed: From Cover-Up to Catastrophe and then, during the 2020 pandemic, directed and released 1986: The Act, which describes the devastation resulting from providing liability protection to vaccine manufacturers.

Nurses

Erin Marie Olszewski is a nurse who documented her experience treating Covid-19 patients at Elmhurst Hospital in Queens, New York. Her video helped explain why Covid-19 patients put on ventilators had a 97% death rate. Olszewski was an Army nurse, having served in Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2003. She became a civilian nurse in 2012. In her video, she stated that the conditions she observed in Elmhurst were worse than what she had seen in third-world countries.

Scientists

Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi, MD began his career as a postdoctoral researcher at the Max Planck Institute of Immunobiology and Epigenetics in Freiburg (1972–1976) and at The Protein Laboratory in Copenhagen (1976–1977).

In 1977, he joined the Institute of Medical Microbiology at Giessen University and was appointed associate professor in 1982. In 1990, he became chair of medical microbiology at the University of Mainz, where he remained until his retirement in 2012. Dr. Bhakdi has published over three hundred articles in the fields of immunology, bacteriology, virology, and parasitology, receiving numerous awards and the Order of Merit of Rhineland-Palatinate. Dr. Bhakdi and his wife, Karina Reiss, live near Kiel, Germany and are the co-authors of the German bestseller, Corona, False Alarm? Facts and Figures.

Dr. Dolores Cahill is an Irish molecular biologist and immunologist who has specialized in early diagnosis of diseases, research integrity, and the impacts of government policy on science, innovation, education, public health, and society. She has been a science professor for 15 years—most recently with University College Dublin—and has also served for 10 years on the Irish government's Advisory Science Council and for 15 years as an EU expert advisor. Her early and eloquent interviews on the questionable science behind Covid-19 policies have been particularly effective, given her combined experience in science, business, and government. Cahill's group sent official letters to all of Ireland's coroners reminding them that it is a prosecutable felony to report a false cause of death. They also approached Irish doctors who treated individuals who died with a Covid-19 diagnosis to ascertain whether the doctors offered their patients known treatments—and to remind them that a physician can be struck off the medical register for not offering a known treatment.

Peter H. Duesberg is a German-American molecular biologist and a professor of molecular and cell biology at the University of California, Berkeley. He is known for his early research into genetic aspects of cancer. In the 1980s and 1990s, he played a pivotal role in questioning whether or not HIV causes AIDS, including authoring the 1997 book Inventing the AIDS Virus. He is one of Jon Rappoport's picks for best sources on the political engineering of epidemics and pandemics.

Judy Mikovits is known for her allegations that endogenous retroviruses are linked to chronic fatigue syndrome. She is the co-author of Plague: One Scientist's Intrepid Search for the Truth about Human Retroviruses and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (ME/CFS), Autism, and Other Diseases (2014) and Plague of Corruption: Restoring Faith in the Promise of Science (2020). If you want to understand the political and financial nature of America's medical establishment, including Dr. Anthony Fauci, these books are highly recommended.

Dr. Karina Reiss, PhD has been an associate professor at the University of Kiel since 2008. She has published over sixty articles in the fields of cell biology, biochemistry, inflammation, and infection. With Dr. Bhakdi, she co-authored Corona, False Alarm? Facts and Figures.

Sheriffs

Sheriff Adam Fortney was sworn in as Snohomish County, Washington's sheriff on December 30, 2019, after having been a member of the Sheriff's Office for 22 years. Sheriff Fortney declined to enforce the governor's "Stay Home" orders, as they were inconsistent and in violation of Washingtonians' civil liberties. His description of the policy's inconsistencies offers more than a few excellent examples of the economic warfare underway. One example: "Our Governor has told us that private building/construction must stop as it is not essential, but government construction is okay to continue. So let me get this right, according to the Governor, if you are employed or contracted by the government to build government things, you can still make a living for your family in spite of any health risk. If you are a construction worker in the private sector, you cannot make a living and support your family because the health risk is too high. This contradiction is not okay, and in my opinion, is bordering on unethical."

Sheriff Scott Nichols, the sheriff of Franklin County, Maine, resisted the more draconian aspects of his governor's orders, saying, "We will not be setting up a Police State. PERIOD." He further stated, "The Sheriff's Office will not purposefully go out and stop vehicles because they are on the road or stop and ask why people are out and about. To do so puts our officers at risk. This is not Nazi Germany or Soviet Russia where you are asked for your papers!"

Publishers and Journalists

Del Matthew Bigtree is an American television and film producer, CEO of the Informed Consent Action Network (ICAN), and producer of Vaxxed: From Cover-Up to Catastrophe. Bigtree founded and hosts the popular Internet talk show, The Highwire, which has provided regular coverage of the Covid-19 pandemic and the efforts to use it as an excuse to push toxic injections on the public, funded with taxpayers' money.

Tucker Carlson hosts Tucker Carlson Tonight on FOX News. Carlson's journalism career also includes past stints at MSNBC, PBS, and CNN. Carlson founded the political news website The Daily Caller in 2010. He is the author of Politicians, Partisans and Parasites: My Adventures in Cable News (2003) and Ship of Fools: How a Selfish Ruling Class Is Bringing America to the Brink of Revolution (2018). Carlson's feisty interview with New Jersey governor Phil Murphy in April 2020 repeatedly raised the question of why the state was prohibiting religious gatherings during Covid-19 while allowing liquor stores to stay open. When Carlson pressed the governor to answer the question, "By what authority did you nullify the Bill of Rights in issuing this order?", the governor responded that the question was "above his pay grade."

James Corbett has written, produced, and hosted The Corbett Report since 2007. An independent, listener-supported news source that operates on the principle of open source intelligence, The Corbett Report covers issues ranging from 9/11 and other false flag events to the Big Brother police state, eugenics, geopolitics, central banking fraud, and more. Corbett's magisterial four-part documentary series (May, 2020) on Bill Gates, Who Is Bill Gates?, is one of the best and most exhaustively researched sources of information on Gates, his family background, his rise to power, and his plan to monopolize global health and vaccinate the world.

David Crowe curated the Infectious Myth website from 2006 until his untimely death in July, 2020. The website and a book project sought to provide scientific evidence that environmental causes are the most plausible explanations for disease and that "the normally accepted infectious cause is not, in fact, valid."

Celia Farber is an American print journalist and author who has covered a range of topics for magazines including Spin, Rolling Stone, Esquire, Harper's, Interview, Salon, Gear, New York Press, Media Post, The New York Post, and Sunday Herald. Farber has been particularly noted for her extensive writing on HIV and AIDS, including her coverage of scientist Peter Duesberg. Farber is the daughter of talk radio pioneer Barry Farber.

Sally Fallon Morell is the co-founder and president of The Weston A. Price Foundation. As author of the best-selling nutritional cookbook Nourishing Traditions, Morell is the leading spokesperson for a return to nutrient-dense diets that include raw milk, animal fats, organ meats, bone broth, and lacto-fermented foods. Morell's latest book, with co-author Dr. Thomas Cowan, is The Contagion Myth: Why Viruses (including Coronavirus) Are Not the Cause of Disease (September 2020), which examines Pasteur's germ theory and assumptions about viruses. Morell and Cowan ask whether other factors—such as toxic living conditions, electrosmog, and 5G—are actually to blame for Covid-19.

Jon Rappoport has worked as a freelance investigative reporter for over 30 years and has uncovered and documented many health care scandals and frauds, including questionable epidemics and pandemics. He has appeared regularly on The Solari Report since 2009. Jon was an early critic of the designation of Covid-19 as a "pandemic," publishing, among other things, the Special Solari Report titled Creation of a False Epidemic and a Special Solari Report with attorney Tom Renz of Ohio Stands Up!, as well as two overviews of the best coverage of the pandemic for this Wrap Up. Jon has published regular columns on the Covid-19 pandemic at his website, NoMoreFakeNews.com.

Josh del Sol is the director and producer of the 2017 documentary Take Back Your Power and, with Sayer Ji, the 2020 5G Crisis: Awareness & Accountability Summit. He has worked tirelessly to understand and document the dangers of the "smart grid," including its potential impact on our health. Del Sol also works with The Irregulars, an independent consortium of senior telecom experts, lawyers, and others calling for investigations and mounting legal challenges against the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and other telecom entities.

Polly Tommey is a leading autism advocate and activist. Polly founded The Autism Trust charity in the UK in 2007 and later established the Trust as a 501(c)3 non-profit in Austin, Texas. The Autism Trust USA is currently building an inspirational center that will offer both residential and outpatient resources to individuals and families living with autism. Polly is co-author of the book, Autism: A Practical Guide to Supporting Your Child's Quality of Life. In 2010, Polly founded the Autism Media Channel, which has produced over 60 videos for the European Sky Information Channel as well as successful documentaries and films including Who Killed Alex Spourdalakis?. Polly played a critical role in both Vaxxed and Vaxxed II and has been an important force in helping us understand the dangers of proposals for Covid-19 "injections."

Whitney Webb is a professional writer, researcher, and journalist writing for The Last American Vagabond and a former staff writer and senior investigative reporter for MintPress News. She also hosts the independent Unlimited Hangout Podcast. Her exposés of organized crime and government corruption have informed an understanding of their role in the current level of global economic warfare. Webb has also covered the "rise of a Biotech Industrial Complex under Covid-19."

Lawyers

Beate Bahner is a German medical lawyer who, early on, became a prominent critic of coronavirus lockdown policies, which she described in an April 3 press release as "flagrantly unconstitutional" and "infringing to an unprecedented extent many of the fundamental rights of citizens." Asserting that the measures would have "devastating consequences for society, the economy, democracy, and above all human health," Bahner noted that the "oaths of all lawyers and judges bind us to safeguard the rule of law." After Bahner declared her willingness to fight the unlawful Covid-19 policies in Federal Constitutional Court, the Heidelberg Police threatened to prosecute her for "incitement," arrested her, and took her to a psychiatric institution. Bahner's 25-year career includes three wins in the Federal Constitutional Court and five books on German medical law.

Markus Haintz is a German attorney and one of the lead organizers of the late-August Berlin rally against Covid-19 restrictions coordinated by the German group Querdenken 711 ("Thinking Outside the Box 711").

Mary Holland, J.D., former Director of the Graduate Lawyering Program at NYU School of Law, is the full-time General Counsel of Children's Health Defense (CHD) and also serves as Vice Chair of the CHD Board of Directors. Holland has fought long and hard in the vaccination choice and safety movement, co-authoring and editing two books (Vaccine Epidemic [2012] and The HPV Vaccine on Trial [2018]), co-founding two non-profits (the Elizabeth Birt Center for Autism Law and Advocacy and the Center for Personal Rights), and serving on multiple advisory boards. In addition, Holland has published seminal legal articles on critical dimensions of vaccine law and policy (including liability for injury) and has submitted amicus briefs to the U.S. Supreme Court (Bruesewitz v. Wyeth) and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (Cedillo v. HHS). Holland has addressed legislators in numerous states on vaccine law and policy, as well as holding briefings on Capitol Hill and at the United Nations. Holland has stated, "Once I learned about the extreme liability protection that industry and health care providers enjoy, and the suppression of accurate science and information about vaccine risks and injury, I understood the need for immediate, radical systemic change. I have been devoted to that change ever since."

Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. is the Founder, Chairman of the Board, and Chief Legal Counsel for Children's Health Defense, as well as President of Waterkeeper Alliance and counsel to Morgan & Morgan, a nationwide personal injury practice. Mr. Kennedy is an esteemed author, with a long list of published books including the New York Times bestseller, Crimes Against Nature (2005), Thimerosal: Let the Science Speak (2015), and American Values: Lessons I Learned from My Family (2019). Mr. Kennedy was named one of Time magazine's "Heroes for the Planet" for his success helping Riverkeeper (which he co-founded in 1995) lead the fight to restore the Hudson River. His reputation as a resolute defender of the environment and children's health stems from a litany of successful legal actions. He received recognition for his role in the landmark victory against Monsanto in 2019, as well as in the DuPont case that inspired the movie Dark Waters.

Tom Renz founded Renz Law as a boutique law firm dedicated to providing the highest quality service possible to its clients. In late August, Renz and fellow Ohio attorney Robert Gargasz filed a lawsuit on behalf of Ohio Stands Up! against the state of Ohio to remove the governor's unconstitutional Covid-19 emergency order. Mr. Renz's legal experience began with his mentor, Nuremburg Prosecutor and celebrated international lawyer and scholar, Henry T. King, Jr. A short list of Renz's other accomplishments as an attorney include being the only American to ever serve as clerk for the Honorable Justice Tarun Chatterjee of the Supreme Court of India, winning the national Trailblazer Award for Political Action, and assisting in advocating for numerous state and national legislative and regulatory reforms.

Spiritual Leaders

Rev. Danny Jones serves as Senior Pastor of Northlake Baptist Church in Gainesville, GA. A graduate of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Rev. Jones was ordained into the ministry in 1990. After serving as pastor for three other churches, Rev. Jones joined Northlake Baptist Church in 2007. Rev. Jones has openly stated that a New World Order is being put into place under cover of Covid-19, drawing attention to the role of players like Bill Gates, George Soros, and the United Nations.

Pastor John MacArthur is the pastor-teacher of Grace Community Church in Sun Valley, California, president of The Master's College and Seminary, and featured teacher with the Grace to You media ministry. Grace to You radio, video, audio, print, and website resources reach millions worldwide each day. During his over four decades of ministry, MacArthur has written dozens of bestselling books, including The MacArthur Study Bible, The Gospel According to Jesus, The New Testament Commentary series, The Truth War, and The Jesus You Can't Ignore. Pastor MacArthur has continued to hold indoor church services during Covid-19 despite repeated Los Angeles County attempts to shut the services down. A California judge has refused to hold the pastor in contempt for violating the state's orders.

Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò is an archbishop of the Catholic Church who served as the Apostolic Nuncio to the U.S. from October 2011 to April 2016, having previously served as Secretary-General of the Governorate of Vatican City (2009-2011). He is known for his role in two scandals that resulted from the unauthorized publication of two of his letters, one revealing financial corruption in the Vatican (2012) and another in 2018 in which he accused Pope Francis and other Church leaders of covering up sexual abuse allegations against a then-cardinal and called on the pope to resign. Viganò has continued to issue public statements, notably his June 2020 letter addressed to the U.S. president characterizing the restrictive Covid-19 measures adopted around the world as a "colossal operation of social engineering," aided by Church representatives "subservient to the deep state, to globalism, to aligned thought, to the New World Order which they invoke ever more frequently in the name of a universal brotherhood which has nothing Christian about it."

Government Officials

Sara Cunial, Italian member of Parliament, attracted worldwide attention for her passionate parliamentary speech in April, which criticized Bill Gates as a "vaccine criminal" and asserted that Gates "has been working on depopulation policy and dictatorial control plans on global politics" for decades, "aiming to obtain the primacy on agriculture, technology, and energy." In her speech, Cunial called upon fellow lawmakers to oppose compulsory vaccination against Covid-19.

Mayor Bryce Hamblin, mayor of Eagar, Arizona (population: 5,000) since 2012, asserted at the beginning of the summer of 2020 that he had no plans to call off planned summer events or to require masks, stating his belief that the government does not have the authority to order healthy, law-abiding citizens to wear masks. Hamblin also stated, "Never before has our government been more eager and willing to take away freedoms from the citizenry [and] never before has the citizenry been more willing to give them up." Mayor Hamblin declared that his response from the onset of Covid-19 has been to "err on the side of freedom" and to encourage citizens to "Be brave and live free."

Stephan Kohn is a senior civil servant in Germany's Ministry of the Interior who authored an 86-page document on April 15 criticizing the "supposedly protective measures" being taken for Covid-19. The document, leaked after being written solely for internal use, concluded that "The actual crisis management and the actions by the political decision-makers could be causing gigantic preventable [financial and medical] damage for our society that could far exceed the potential damage of the coronavirus itself and could in the process cause unimaginable suffering." Kohn was suspended after the document's leak. An English-language summary of the critique is available at <http://www.klasseverantwoertung.de/english/Corona.html>.

Kristi Lynn Noem has served as the governor of South Dakota since January, 2019. A Republican, Noem was the U.S. Representative for South Dakota's at-large congressional district from 2011 to 2019, and a member of the South Dakota House of Representatives from 2007 to 2011. Noem, who is South Dakota's first female governor, refused to lock down her state. In October, Noem described a note from a "prominent national reporter" that stated, "Governor, if you hadn't stood against lockdowns, we'd have no proof of just how useless they really have been."

Entrepreneurs

Pete Evans is an internationally renowned chef, restaurateur, entrepreneur, keynote speaker, author, television presenter, and documentary producer whose podcast, Evolve with Pete Evans, explores nutritional and emotional well-being and the belief that food should be the first "port of call" for a healthier life. During the Covid-19 pandemic, Evans has publicly raised questions about the lockdowns and other restrictions, suggesting that "This is Agenda 21 being played out in real life." Evans has also questioned why Covid-19 is receiving more attention than the ignored epidemic of autism. After 11 seasons, Australia's Channel Seven dismissed Evans from his $800,000-a-year job as a co-host and judge on the popular show My Kitchen Rules due to his allegedly "dangerous and unscientific views."

Shelley Luther is the owner of Salon à la Mode and a professional makeup artist in Dallas, Texas. Luther garnered nationwide media coverage on April 25 when she publicly tore up a cease-and-desist letter from local authorities and reopened her salon despite stay-at-home orders from the governor that called for the continued closure of "non-essential" businesses. After being sentenced to seven days in jail and fined $7,000, Luther raised half a million dollars in crowdfunding and embarrassed Republican lawmakers into arranging her release. She is now running as a Republican candidate for the Texas state senate.

Activists

Frank Clegg is the former president of Microsoft Canada and the founder and CEO of Canadians for Safe Technology (C4ST). In March, when many municipalities began accelerating the rollout of 5G while people were under lockdown orders, Clegg appealed to the government of Canada to suspend 5G's rollout in favor of safe and reliable fiber connections. C4ST is a non-profit, volunteer-based coalition of parents, citizens, and experts dedicated to educating Canadian citizens and lawmakers about the dangers of unsafe levels of wireless radiation and measures to create healthier communities.

Aubrey Lewis Huff III is a former Major League baseball player who over many seasons played for multiple teams, including the San Francisco Giants during two World Series championships. In June 2020, Huff commented on the Covid-19 pandemic, stating, "If you want to wear a mask and live in fear for the rest of your lives, that's certainly your prerogative. But the vast majority of well-adjusted, sane, common sense people that aren't sheep and can reason for themselves agree with me. [...] I would rather die from coronavirus than live the rest of my life in fear and wear a mask." Huff also suggested that while the vulnerable might choose to stay home, it "doesn't mean the whole world has to shut down."

B. Solari Reports about the Pandemic

My way of understanding the Covid-19 pandemic was to watch the financial patterns. First and foremost, what is happening is a global reset of governance and financial systems. Consequently, if you only have time to read one Solari Report Wrap Up, please read the 2nd Quarter 2019 Wrap Up: The State of Our Currencies and listen to “The State of Our Currencies: Take Two” (full interview).

DIGGING INTO THE OFFICIAL STORY

As soon as the Covid-19 pandemic went into overdrive in March, we were able to publish Solari Reports with Jon Rappoport and Dr. Joseph Farrell to warn our subscribers that the official story was not true.

Coronavirus, Epidemics, and Vaccine Terrorism with Jon Rappoport

Cui Bono Coronavirus? with Dr. Joseph P. Farrell (full interview)

We had already been publishing Solari Reports on the damage resulting from vaccines. As the lies of Covid-19 exploded, we were able to invite leaders in the health freedom movement for a series of great Solari Reports.

C. The Injection Fraud: It's Not a Vaccine

“The difference between the almost right word and the right word is the difference between the lightning bug and the lightning.”

—Mark Twain

by Catherine Austin Fitts

I am not a scientist. I am not a doctor.
I am not a biotech engineer. I am not an attorney.
However, I read, listen, appreciate, and try to understand those who are.

I was an investment banker until politics made it impossible to continue to practice my art. I was trained as a portfolio strategist—so I map my world by watching the financial flows and allocation of resources. I was also trained as a conspiracy generator and foot soldier—conspiracies being the fundamental organizing principle of how things get done in our world. It was not until I left the establishment that I learned that those not in the club had been trained to disparage and avoid conspiracies—a clever trick that sabotages their efforts to gather power.

My response to living at war with agencies of the U.S. government for a time was to answer the questions of people who were sufficiently courageous and curious to solicit my opinion. Over many years, that response transformed into two businesses. One was The Solari Report, which continues to grow as a global intelligence network—we seek to help each other understand and navigate what is happening and contribute to positive outcomes. The other was serving as an investment advisor to individuals and families through Solari Investment Advisory Services. After ten years, I converted that business to doing an ESG screen. What those who use it want—that is not otherwise readily available in the retail market—is a screen that reflects knowledge of financial and political corruption. Tracking the metastasizing corruption is an art, not a science.

When you help a family with their finances, it is imperative to understand all their risk issues. Their financial success depends on successful mitigation of all the risks—whether financial or non-financial—that they encounter in their daily lives. Non-financial risks can have a major impact on the allocation of family resources, including attention, time, assets, and money.

Many of my clients and their children had been devastated and drained by health care failures and corruption—and the most common catalyst for this devastation was vaccine death and injury. After their lengthy and horrendous experiences with the health care establishment, they would invariably ask, “If the corruption is this bad in medicine, food, and health, what is going on in the financial world?” Chilled by the thought, they would search out a financial professional who was schooled in U.S. government and financial corruption. And they would find me.

The result of this flow of bright, educated people blessed with the resources to pay for my time was that, for ten years, I got quite an education about the disabilities and death inflicted on our children by what I now call “the great poisoning.” I had the opportunity to repeatedly price out the human damage to all concerned—not just the affected children but their parents, siblings, and future generations—mapping the financial costs of vaccine injury again and again and again. These cases were not as unusual as you might expect. Studies indicate that 54% of American children have one or more chronic diseases. Doctors who I trust tell me that number is actually much higher, as many children and their families cannot afford the care and testing necessary to properly diagnose what ails them.

One of the mothers featured in Vaxxed—a must-watch documentary for any awake citizen, as is its sequel Vaxxed II: The People’s Truth—estimated that a heavily autistic child would cost present value $5MM to raise and care for over a lifetime. When my clients who were grandparents insisted that they would not interfere with their children’s vaccine choices because it was “none of their business,” I would say, “Really? Who has the $5MM? You or your kids? When your kids need the $5MM to raise their vaccine-injured child, are you going to refuse them? You are the banker, and it is your money that is at risk here, so it is your business. Do you want to spend that $5MM on growing a strong family through the generations or on managing a disabled child who did not have to be disabled?” Often, that $5MM in expenditures also translates into divorce, depression, and lost opportunities for siblings.

My clients helped me find the best resources—books, documentaries, articles—on vaccines. You will find many of them linked or reviewed at The Solari Report, including in our Library.

Of all the questions that I had, the one that I spent the most time researching and thinking about was why. Why was the medical establishment intentionally poisoning generations of children? Many of the writers who researched and wrote about vaccine injury and death assumed it was an aberration—resulting from the orthodoxy of a medical establishment that could not face or deal with its mistakes and liabilities. That never made sense to me. Writings by Forrest Maready, Jon Rappoport, Dr. Suzanne Humphries, and Arthur Firstenberg have helped me understand the role of vaccines in the con man trick of saving money for insurance companies and the legally liable.

Here is one example of how the trick may play out. A toxin creates a disease. The toxin might be pesticides or industrial pollution or wireless technology radiation. The toxin damages millions of people and their communities. Companies or their insurance provider may be liable for civil or criminal violations. Then a virus is blamed. A “cure” is found in a “vaccine.” The pesticide or other toxic exposure is halted just as the vaccine is introduced, and presto, the sickness goes away. The vaccine is declared a success, and the inventor is declared a hero. A potential financial catastrophe has been converted to a profit, including for investors and pension funds. As a portfolio strategist, I admit it has been a brilliant trick and likely has protected the insurance industry from the bankrupting losses it would experience if it had to fairly compensate the people and families destroyed.

Thanks to the work of Robert Kennedy and Mary Holland of Children’s Health Defense, I now understand the enormous profits generated by so-called “vaccines” subsequent to the passage of the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986 and the creation of the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program—a federal no-fault mechanism for compensating vaccine-related injuries or deaths by establishing a claim procedure involving the United States Court of Federal Claims and special masters. Call a drug or biotech cocktail a “vaccine,” and pharmaceutical and biotech companies are free from any liabilities—the taxpayer pays. Unfortunately, this system has become an open invitation to make billions from “injectibles,” particularly where government regulations and laws can be used to create a guaranteed market through mandates. As government agencies and legislators as well as the corporate media have developed various schemes to participate in the billions of profits, significant conflicts of interest have resulted.

The Public Readiness and Emergency Preparedness Act (PREPA or the PREP Act) became law in 2005, adding to corporate freedoms from liability. The Act “is a controversial tort liability shield intended to protect vaccine manufacturers from financial risk in the event of a declared public health emergency. The act specifically affords to drug makers immunity from potential financial liability for clinical trials of . . . vaccine at the discretion of the Executive branch of government. PREPA strengthens and consolidates the oversight of litigation against pharmaceutical companies under the purview of the secretary of Health and Human Services” (Wikipedia).

Over time, this has evolved to the engineering of epidemics—the medical version of false flags. In theory, these can be “psyops” or events engineered with chemical warfare, biowarfare, or wireless technology. If this sounds strange, dive into all the writings of the “Targeted Individuals.”

I learned about this first-hand when I was litigating with the Department of Justice and was experiencing significant physical harassment. I tried to hire several security firms; they would check my references and then decline the work, saying it was too dangerous. The last one took pity and warned me not to worry about electronic weaponry, letting me know that my main problem would be low-grade biowarfare. This biowarfare expert predicted that the opposing team would drill holes in the wall of my house and inject the “invisible enemy.” Sure enough, that is exactly what happened. I sold my house and left town. That journey began a long process of learning how poisoning and nonlethal weapons are used—whether to move people out of rent-controlled apartments, sicken the elderly to move them to more expensive government-subsidized housing, gangstalk political or business targets, or weaken or kill litigants—and the list goes on. Poisoning turned out to be a much more common tactic in the game of political and economic warfare in America than I had previously understood.

After I finished my litigation, I spent several years detoxing from heavy metal toxicity—including from lead, arsenic, and aluminum. As I drove around America, I realized it was not just me. Americans increasingly looked like a people struggling with high loads of heavy metals toxicity. In the process of significantly decreasing my unusually high levels of heavy metals, I learned what a difference the toxic load had made to my outlook, my energy, and my ability to handle complex information.

This brings me to the question of what exactly a vaccine is and what exactly is in the concoctions being injected into people today as well as the witches' brews currently under development.

In 2017, Italian researchers reviewed the ingredients of 44 types of so-called “vaccines.” They discovered heavy metal debris and biological contamination in every human vaccine they tested. The researchers stated, “The quantity of foreign bodies detected and, in some cases, their unusual chemical compositions baffled us.” They then drew the obvious conclusion, namely, that because the micro- and nanocontaminants were “neither biocompatible nor biodegradable,” they were “biopersistent” and could cause inflammatory effects right away—or later (<http://medcraveonline.com/IJVV/IJVV-04-00072.pdf>).

Aborted fetal tissue, animal tissue, aluminum, mercury, genetically altered materials—and what else?

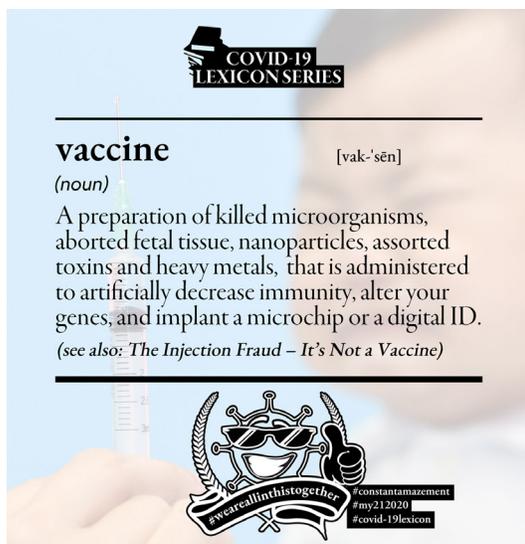

Whatever the ingredients of vaccines have been to date, nothing is more bizarre and unsettling than the proposals of what might be included in them in the future. Strategies—already well-funded and well on the way—include brain-machine interface nanotechnology, digital identity tracking devices, and technology with an expiration date that can be managed and turned off remotely. One report indicates that the Danish government and U.S. Navy had been paying a tech company in Denmark to make an injectible chip that would be compatible with one of the leading cryptocurrencies.

I was recently reading Mary Holland's excellent 2012 review of U.S. vaccine court decisions (“Compulsory vaccination, the Constitution, and the hepatitis B mandate for infants and young children,” Yale Journal of Health Policy, Law, and Ethics) and I froze and thought, “Why are we calling the injectibles that Bill Gates and his colleagues are promoting ‘vaccines’? Are they really vaccines?”

Most people are familiar with how Bill Gates made and kept his fortune. He acquired an operating system that was loaded into your computer. It was widely rumored that the U.S. intelligence agencies had a back door. The simultaneous and sudden explosion of computer viruses then made it necessary to regularly update your operating system, allowing Gates and his associates to regularly add whatever they wanted into your software. One of my more knowledgeable software developers once said to me in the 1990s—when Microsoft really took off—“Microsoft makes really sh***y software.” But of course, the software was not really their business. Their business was accessing and aggregating all of your data. Surveillance capitalism was underway.

The Department of Justice launched an antitrust case against Microsoft in 1998, just as the $21 trillion started to disappear from the U.S. government—no doubt with the help of specially designed software and IT systems. During the settlement negotiations that permitted Gates to keep his fortune, he started the Gates Foundation and his new philanthropy career. I laughed the other day when my tweet of one of Robert Kennedy Jr.'s articles from Children's Health Defense—describing the gruesome technology Gates is hoping to roll out through “injectibles”—inspired a response: “Well, I guess he is finally fulfilling his side of his antitrust settlement.”

If you look at what is being created and proposed in the way of injectibles, it looks to me like these technological developments are organized around several potential goals.

The first and most important goal is the replacement of the existing U.S. dollar currency system used by the general population with a digital transaction system that can be combined with digital identification and tracking. The goal is to end currencies as we know them and replace them with an embedded credit card system that can be integrated with various forms of control, potentially including mind control. “De-dollarization” is threatening the dollar global reserve system. The M1 and M2 money supply have increased in the double digits over the last year as a result of a new round of quantitative easing by the Fed. The reason we have not entered into hyperinflation is because of the dramatic drop in money velocity occasioned by converting Covid-19 into an engineered shutdown of significant economic activity and the bankrupting of millions of small and medium-sized businesses. The managers of the dollar system are under urgent pressure to use new technology to centralize economic flows and preserve their control of the financial system.

Just as Gates installed an operating system in our computers, now the vision is to install an operating system in our bodies and use “viruses” to mandate an initial installation followed by regular updates.

Now I appreciate why Gates and his colleagues want to call these technologies “vaccines.” If they can persuade the body politic that injectible credit cards or injectible surveillance trackers or injectable brain-machine interface nanotechnologies are “vaccines,” then they can enjoy the protection of a century or more of legal decisions and laws that support their efforts to mandate what they want to do. As well, they can insist that U.S. taxpayers fund, through the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, the damages for which they would otherwise be liable as a result of their experiments—and violations of the Nuremberg Code and numerous civil and criminal laws—on the general population. The scheme is quite clever. Get the general population to go along with defining their new injectible high-tech concoctions as “vaccines,” and they can slip them right into the vaccine pipeline. No need to worry about the disease and death that will result from something this unnatural delivered this quickly. The freedom from liability guaranteed by the PREP Act through the declaration of an emergency—and the ability to keep the emergency going through contact tracing—can protect them from liability for thousands if not millions of deaths and disabilities likely to follow such human experimentation. Ideally, they can just blame the deaths on a virus.

A colleague once told me how Webster's Dictionary came about. Webster said that the way the evildoers would change the Constitution was not by amending it but by changing the definitions—a legal sneak attack.

I believe that Gates and the pharma and biotech industries are literally reaching to create a global control grid by installing digital interface components and hooking us up to Microsoft's new $10 billion JEDI cloud at the Department of Defense as well as Amazon's multibillion cloud contract for the CIA that is shared with all U.S. intelligence agencies. Why do you think President Trump has the military organizing to stockpile syringes for vaccines? It is likely because the military is installing the roaming operating system for integration into their cloud. Remember—the winner in the AI superpower race is the AI system with access to the most data. Accessing your body and my body on a 24/7 basis generates a lot of data. If the Chinese do it, the Americans will want to do it, too. In fact, the rollout of human “operating systems” may be one of the reasons why the competition around Huawei and 5G telecommunications has become so fractious. As Frank Clegg, former President of Microsoft Canada has warned us, 5G was developed by the Israelis for crowd control.

In the face of global “de-dollarization,” this is how the dollar syndicate can assert the central control it needs to maintain and extend its global reserve currency financial power. This includes protecting its leadership from the civil and criminal liability related to explosive levels of financial and health care fraud in recent decades.

Which brings me back to you and me. Why are we calling these formulations “vaccines”? If I understand the history of case law, vaccines, in legal terms, are medicine. Intentional heavy metal poisoning is not medicine. Injectable surveillance components are not medicine. Injectable credit cards are not medicine. An injectible brain-machine interface is not a medicine. Legal and financial immunity for insurance companies does not create human immunity from disease.

We need to stop allowing these concoctions to be referred to by a word that the courts and the general population define and treat as medicine and protect from legal and financial liability.

The perpetrators of this fraud are trying a very neat trick—one that will help them go much faster and cancel out a lot of risk—at our expense. I understand why they are doing it.

What I don't understand is why we are helping them. Why are we acquiescing in calling these bizarre and deeply dangerous concoctions “vaccines”? Whatever they are, they are not medicine.

So, what shall our naming convention be? What name shall we give to the relevant poisons, neurologically damaging metals, and digital shackles?

Whatever we call them, I know one thing. THEY ARE NOT MEDICINE, WHICH MEANS THEY SURE ARE NOT VACCINES.

“ Don't you see that the whole aim of Newspeak is to narrow the range of thought? In the end we shall make thoughtcrime literally impossible, because there will be no words in which to express it. Every concept that can ever be needed will be expressed by exactly one word, with its meaning rigidly defined and all its subsidiary meanings rubbed out and forgotten. [...] Every year fewer and fewer words, and the range of consciousness always a little smaller. Even now, of course, there's no reason or excuse for committing thoughtcrime. It's merely a question of self-discipline, reality-control. But in the end there won't be any need even for that. [...] In fact there will be no thought, as we understand it now. Orthodoxy means not thinking – not needing to think. Orthodoxy is unconsciousness. ”

D. Pandemic Websites, Articles, and Book Reviews

“Every part of our lives will be subject to control. This virus is about training us for submission, training us to do what we’re told. To not go to the beach unless we’re told, to not kiss our girlfriend without their permission. They’re turning us into production units and consuming entities. They are going to rob us not only of our democracy and our liberties, but our souls. They are going to inject us with the medicines they want and they’re going to charge us for the diseases they give us. They are going to control every part of our lives. What we are doing at Children’s Health Defense is using the last instruments of democracy we have left—the Courts—to fight them. We are in the last battle. We are in the apocalypse. We are fighting for the salvation of humanity. We all knew this was coming, though I never believed it would come in my lifetime. But here it is.”

~ Robert F. Kennedy, Jr.

The story of the Covid-19 pandemic has a past, a present, and a future. It falls to each of us to find the truth of the past and present, as best we can, and to anticipate the possible scenarios of an uncertain future.

The injection fraud and the accompanying political and economic war have just begun. While we are still trying to figure out what happened in the first inning, it is essential to remember that we have many more innings to go.

Of one thing we can be sure: The official story is not true. The official story—communicated through governments, industry, and the media—is neither logical, scientific, nor sensible and cannot justify the unprecedented economic warfare underway.

That said, figuring out what is true can quickly become a full-time job. We are dealing with multiple phenomena in multiple places and the challenge of collecting and aggregating accurate data in the face of an extensive and richly financed propaganda and disinformation apparatus. We have rarely seen propaganda this bad.

A recent chart estimates that 49% of the small businesses in San Francisco have closed permanently in 2020. I read this chart a week or two after the CDC revised its count of total U.S. deaths solely from Covid-19 to less than 10,000. My county in Tennessee has reported three Covid deaths and seven traffic fatalities in 2020, and my Tennessee church is in a county with one Covid death and three traffic fatalities. It seems like a stretch to destroy this much income and that many small businesses on Main Street for such a pretext as the “magic virus.”

A recent UBS and PwC survey showed that global billionaires have increased their wealth to $10 trillion, up 27% since April. That gives them plenty of resources to rig elections and build out the smart grid in cities wrecked by Covid-19 and “riots.” No doubt, lots of real estate will be available at reduced prices for the vulture capitalists.

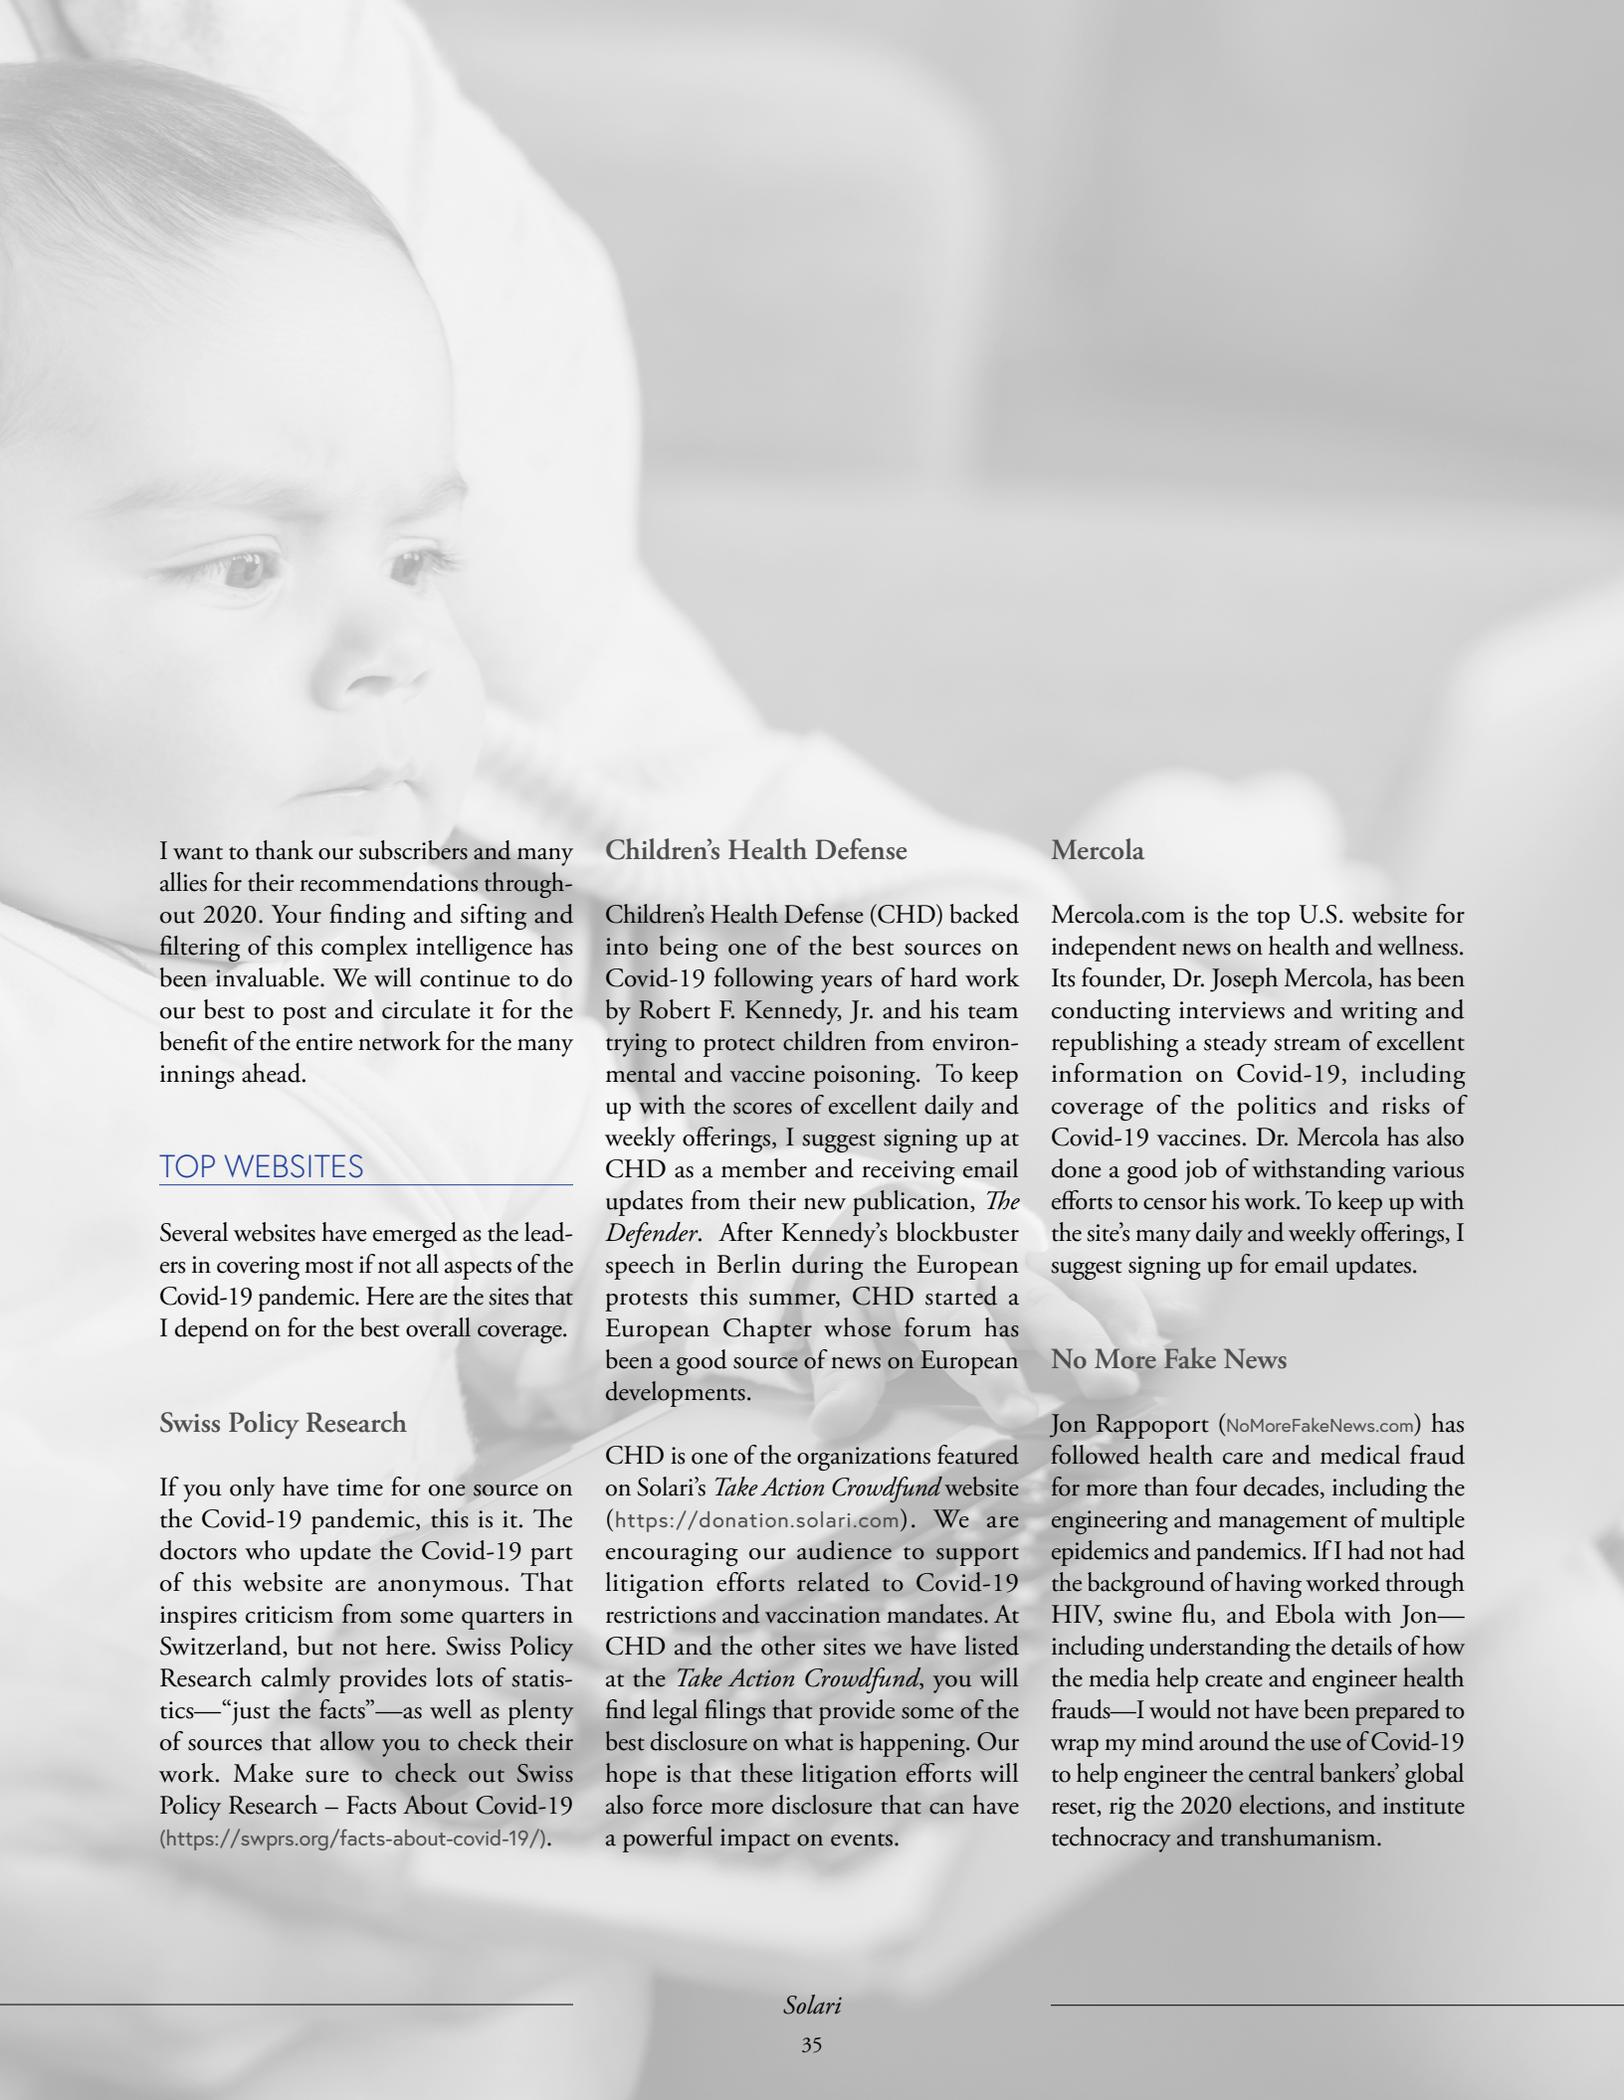

The official narrative reflects multiple symptoms of cult and occult behavior and the power of central control. As C.J. Hopkins writes in his essay, “The Covidian Cult”:

“One of the hallmarks of totalitarianism is mass conformity to a psychotic official narrative. Not a regular official narrative, like the ‘Cold War’ or the ‘War on Terror’ narratives. A totally delusional official narrative that has little or no connection to reality and that is contradicted by a preponderance of facts.”

We know that most official pronouncements about what may happen next cannot be trusted. In response to the lies of the official story, a whole industry has erupted of people who prophesy what will happen next—which is ridiculous given the fact that even the central bankers and other leadership driving the Covid-19 train and the related financial reset likely do not know. They know where they want to go, but the process is organic. We are in the global invention room.

As an investment advisor, I saw fear and false certainty used to relieve many people of their good sense, time, and savings. Similar efforts are in high gear today—because fear sells. Please avoid people who are selling fear or selling products and services based on “fear appeal,” and avoid those promising prophetic certainty.

Good sources of intelligence can help. Find those sources that increase your coherence and your ability to navigate. Here are my picks for the best sources on the coronavirus pandemic and the injection fraud through the end of 2nd Quarter 2020. Bear in mind that these are the tip of the iceberg, for there has been an outpouring of good intelligence on the use of health care fraud to engineer central control.

I want to thank our subscribers and many allies for their recommendations throughout 2020. Your finding and sifting and filtering of this complex intelligence has been invaluable. We will continue to do our best to post and circulate it for the benefit of the entire network for the many innings ahead.

TOP WEBSITES

Several websites have emerged as the leaders in covering most if not all aspects of the Covid-19 pandemic. Here are the sites that I depend on for the best overall coverage.

Swiss Policy Research

If you only have time for one source on the Covid-19 pandemic, this is it. The doctors who update the Covid-19 part of this website are anonymous. That inspires criticism from some quarters in Switzerland, but not here. Swiss Policy Research calmly provides lots of statistics—“just the facts”—as well as plenty of sources that allow you to check their work. Make sure to check out Swiss Policy Research – Facts About Covid-19 (<https://swprs.org/facts-about-covid-19/>).

Children’s Health Defense

Children’s Health Defense (CHD) backed into being one of the best sources on Covid-19 following years of hard work by Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. and his team trying to protect children from environmental and vaccine poisoning. To keep up with the scores of excellent daily and weekly offerings, I suggest signing up at CHD as a member and receiving email updates from their new publication, The Defender. After Kennedy’s blockbuster speech in Berlin during the European protests this summer, CHD started a European Chapter whose forum has been a good source of news on European developments.

CHD is one of the organizations featured on Solari’s Take Action Crowdfund website (<https://donation.solari.com>). We are encouraging our audience to support litigation efforts related to Covid-19 restrictions and vaccination mandates. At CHD and the other sites we have listed at the Take Action Crowdfund, you will find legal filings that provide some of the best disclosure on what is happening. Our hope is that these litigation efforts will also force more disclosure that can have a powerful impact on events.

Mercola

Mercola.com is the top U.S. website for independent news on health and wellness. Its founder, Dr. Joseph Mercola, has been conducting interviews and writing and republishing a steady stream of excellent information on Covid-19, including coverage of the politics and risks of Covid-19 vaccines. Dr. Mercola has also done a good job of withstanding various efforts to censor his work. To keep up with the site’s many daily and weekly offerings, I suggest signing up for email updates.

No More Fake News

Jon Rappoport (NoMoreFakeNews.com) has followed health care and medical fraud for more than four decades, including the engineering and management of multiple epidemics and pandemics. If I had not had the background of having worked through HIV, swine flu, and Ebola with Jon—including understanding the details of how the media help create and engineer health frauds—I would not have been prepared to wrap my mind around the use of Covid-19 to help engineer the central bankers’ global reset, rig the 2020 elections, and institute technocracy and transhumanism.

Over the course of the pandemic, Jon has provided a wealth of articles at his own site as well as interviews and presentations for The Solari Report. I strongly recommend the interviews in Jon's Matrix Revealed collection as well as the many videos he has produced for The Solari Report since March, most of which have been scrubbed from YouTube. Fortunately, they are available at solari.com, BitChute, LBRY.TV, and Odyssey.

One of the things that Jon repeatedly reminds us is not to assume that the real health issues being reported from around the globe represent a single phenomenon. In our complex world, we are often faced with multiple and likely synergistic toxic phenomena explained away as one thing. The toxicity created by global spraying, industrial pollution, biodiesel fuel, and heavy schedules of flu shots and other vaccines combines with EMF radiation—including the implementation of 5G crowd control technology and other forms of weaponized EMF use. As Jon cautions, whatever is going on, it is not one thing.

Jon has also challenged whether a SARS-CoV-2 infectious virus has been proven to exist according to the standard of Koch's Postulates. Much debate has revolved on this point and the overall validity of germ theory. After many hours of trying to understand this debate, one thing is clear. If there is a SARS-CoV-2 virus and it is an infectious cause of disease rather than a symptom of the body dealing with toxicity, it should be a lot easier than it is for the layman to understand how the virus's existence has been proved and documented. Something stinks. Jon's deep historical understanding of health care fraud is critical for grasping the potential size of the lies with which we are dealing.

Those who argue that an infectious virus most certainly exists, such as Dr. Peter Breggin, believe that it is a weaponized pathogen funded by the United States government and developed through gain-of-function research in the United States and in China's Wuhan Lab. The theory of intentionally released pathogens certainly resonates with the financial patterns of 2020 and the efforts to centrally control the U.S. elections. It also raises the question of whether the totalitarian systems being put into place anticipate much more significant applications of chemical, biological, and EMF warfare and other forms of disaster capitalism and depopulation in the future.

The Corbett Report and The Infectious Myth

In addition to the websites already mentioned, there are other sources that, while not necessarily focused on regular or comprehensive coverage of Covid-19, do an excellent job of covering critical aspects. Two not to be missed are The Corbett Report and The Infectious Myth.

Canadian James Corbett, based in Tokyo, is well known for producing great video presentations that aggregate facts and evidence that shred official reality to pieces—and for doing so with great humor. This year, he has outdone himself, particularly with his four-part series on Bill Gates (<https://www.corbettreport.com/gates/>).

The series significantly damaged Gates's undeserved mainstream credibility, proving once again that facts matter.

The Infectious Myth website by David Crowe (<https://theinfectiousmyth.com/index2.php>) is one of Jon Rappoport's top picks. With a strong background in disputing the lies of HIV, David Crowe published "Flaws in Coronavirus Pandemic Theory" in June 2020 (<https://theinfectiousmyth.com/book/CoronavirusPanic.pdf>), passing away shortly thereafter in July 2020.

TOP ARTICLES

In addition to the many great pieces at the websites described above, here are some favorite articles, available online, that qualify as Covid classics.

Dr. Peter Breggin

Dr. Breggin has a long history of fighting unethical mind control applications by the U.S. psychiatric profession. I strongly recommend watching Truthstream Media's documentary, The Minds of Men, to familiarize yourself with Dr. Breggin's efforts.

Dr. Breggin and his wife Ginger have published very significant research on Covid-19. I recommend their filing in support of the Ohio Stands Up! lawsuit filed by attorney Tom Renz as well as the Breggins' report on Anthony Fauci's involvement in financing weaponized pathogens.

Dr. Fauci’s COVID-19 Treachery

<https://breggin.com/dr-faucis-covid-19-treachery/>

J.B. Handley

J.B. Handley is a successful investment manager forced into investigating health care fraud through his personal experience with autism and relating it to what he is watching in the economy and financial markets. While Handley professes to wanting to be left alone to focus on a demanding profession, he has still managed to knock out some of the best overall analysis of what is going on in his series, Lockdown Lunacy. Make sure to check out the first three parts:

C.J. Hopkins

Hopkins, whose coverage of the U.S. media “shriek-o-meter” is some of the best, has turned his laser-like wit on Covid-19 on his Consent Factory, Inc. website (<https://consentfactory.org/>). In his essay titled “The Covidian Cult” (<https://consentfactory.org/2020/10/13/the-covidian-cult/>), Hopkins does a brilliant job of depicting what we are up against:

“While it is crucial to continue reporting the facts and sharing them with as many people as possible—which is becoming increasingly difficult due to the censorship of alternative and social media—it is important to accept what we are up against. What we are up against is not a misunderstanding or a rational argument over scientific facts. It is a fanatical ideological movement. A global totalitarian movement ... the first of its kind in human history.

It isn’t national totalitarianism, because we’re living in a global capitalist empire, which isn’t ruled by nation-states, but rather, by supranational entities and the global capitalist system itself. And thus, the cult/culture paradigm has been inverted. Instead of the cult existing as an island within the dominant culture, the cult has become the dominant culture, and those of us who have not joined the cult have become the isolated islands within it.”

Hopkins helps us to understand how important it is to focus on how to navigate around a global cult that we have no intention of joining, as opposed to trying to reason with it. Cults don’t respond to reason. They respond to profit, power, mind control, and force.

James Perloff

Journalist James Perloff published a lengthy blog summarizing the Covid-19 crisis. As he states, “no one has all the answers on COVID-19, but we should have the will to look for them.” When Perloff updated the article into a book, COVID-19 and the Agendas to Come: Red-Pilled, Amazon promptly censored it.

Solari Report Subscribers

Pound for pound, the intelligence that regularly flows into The Solari Report from subscribers is some of the most valuable there is—providing an accurate and suitably complex picture of what is happening.

In late April, a subscriber in Tennessee reported on mandated tests at a prison where he works. This is an example of on-the-ground reporting.

“I Got Tested”

<https://home.solari.com/i-got-tested/>

Another subscriber, who attended a Children's Health Defense rally in Albany in June, also filed an on-the-ground report.

“We're Not Gonna Take It”

<https://home.solari.com/were-not-gonna-take-it/>

World Health Organization (WHO) Meeting, December 2019

A two-day WHO meeting in Geneva in December 2019 brought together vaccine program leaders from around the world. Attendees emphasized that global vaccine programs and the pharmaceutical industry have no science to support the statement that vaccines are “safe and effective.” This conclusion was likely one of the most important drivers of the Covid-19 pandemic—one of multiple threats to central control and the transhumanist vision. Watching it, you can understand why it was probably deemed essential to engineer a global health crisis. This was a recorded public meeting. OOPS.

“Look WHO's Talking! Vaccine Scientists Confirm Major Safety Problems”

<https://childrenshealthdefense.org/news/look-whos-talking-vaccine-scientists-confirm-major-safety-problems/>

Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò

While church leaders have been remarkably quiet regarding the war on churches that is a clear part of the Covid-19 operations and spiritual warfare, one notable exception has been Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò. His original appeal is well worth reading. Archbishop Viganò also wrote two open letters to President Trump (in June and late October, respectively).

Appeal for the Church and the World

<https://home.solari.com/appeal-for-the-church-and-the-world/>

Letters to Public Officials

Solari Report subscribers have been writing letters to state and local officials (and sharing them as a template for others to use), pushing back against the ongoing effort to bankrupt Main Street and the families that make communities work.

SOLARI BOOK REVIEWS

Dealing with an “invisible enemy” on a worldwide basis quickly becomes quite complex and touches on a wide range of topics. It is exceptionally difficult to get information on some of these topics—for example, on the history of U.S. biowarfare and the United States' global network of biowarfare labs. Other topics—such as the science of mask use or various laws and regulations—require mastery of literally thousands of studies, laws, and regulations in multiple countries.

Going deep on any one of these many topics is often best done by reading books. As I have been reading, I have been posting book reviews at The Solari Report. Here are some of the authors and books that have been the most useful for me.

Thomas S. Cowan, MD and Sally Fallon Morell

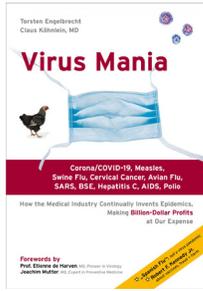

Germ theory and the fraudulent use of injections are deeply intertwined topics. The best overview is available from dynamic duo Dr. Thomas Cowan and Sally Fallon Morell:

The Contagion Myth: Why Viruses (including “Coronavirus”) Are Not the Cause of Disease

<https://home.solari.com/book-review-the-contagion-myth-why-viruses-including-coronavirus-are-not-the-cause-of-disease/>

Torsten Engelbrecht and Claus Köhnlein

If you want to go really deep on the problems with traditional germ theory, you should read the classic from Germans Torsten Engelbrecht and Claus Köhnlein:

Virus Mania: How the Medical Industry Continually Invents Epidemics, Making Billion-Dollar Profits at Our Expense

<https://home.solari.com/book-review-virus-mania-by-torsten-engelbrecht-claus-koehnlein/>

Forrest Maready

After years of Bill Gates and Microsoft (“got to update your software because of a big bad virus”), the author who finally helped me understand the big business of using germs and injections to exempt the leadership from liability and save the insurance industry billions was Forrest Maready. You cannot understand the game that is being played with Covid-19 until you appreciate that it is more than a century old.

The Autism Vaccine: The Story of Modern Medicine’s Greatest Tragedy

<https://home.solari.com/book-review-the-autism-vaccine/>

The Moth in the Iron Lung: A Biography of Polio

Crooked: Man-Made Disease Explained

<https://home.solari.com/book-review-crooked-man-made-disease-explained-by-forrest-maready/>

Dr. Judy Mikovits and Kent Heckenlively

Lest you think the current U.S. leadership and health industry would not do something this hideous, you need to check out Dr. Judy Mikovits’ description of how many people they have intentionally poisoned with the injection fraud so far—and covered up.

Plague of Corruption: Restoring Faith in the Promise of Science

<https://home.solari.com/book-review-plague-of-corruption-by-dr-judy-mikovits-kent-heckenlively/>

Arthur Firstenberg

One of the challenges to germ theory is the hypothesis that some or all of what we are observing as viruses is actually the body’s immune system response to poisoning from electrification—including the rollout of 5G. Significant evidence supports this hypothesis. The most impressive collection is from Arthur Firstenberg, whose work on this topic is quite impressive. Unfortunately, his naiveté on numerous other topics sometimes makes it difficult to promote his work on electrification. I continue to believe that the written presentation in his book is first-rate.

The Invisible Rainbow: A History of Electricity and Life

<https://home.solari.com/book-review-invisible-rainbow-by-arthur-firstenberg/>

Wayne McRoy

One of the challenges of writing about Covid-19 is that the end goal of the elites—transhumanism—is hard for most people to fathom. In part, this is the result of decades if not centuries of secrecy about new technological applications and developments. One author who has managed to explore the end game is Wayne McRoy, who started to research autism’s explosive growth after his family was touched personally by autism.

The Autism Epidemic: Transhumanism’s Dirty Little Secret

BUILDING AN INTELLIGENCE NETWORK

As you survey the outpourings of research and publications on Covid-19, what you may come to appreciate is the power of each one of us to fight for the basic principles of human civilization—and to share and foster the intelligence we need to build the future we choose.

The globalists who are engineering the Covid cult want us to believe our situation is hopeless. Don't believe it. Instead, look at the love and intelligence represented by these selections and by our choices for Solari Pandemic Heroes.

Life is not hopeless—and never will be—just because a few cranky globalists and their tech attack poodles may be. While I don't underestimate the power and ability of the globalists to poison and kill, particularly if a great many people continue to help and finance their doing so, I never bet against life. Life always wins.

As British poet Shelley once reminded us,

“Ye are many, they are few.”

E. Pandemic Videos

“ For endless war, you must have an enemy who cannot be caught, who is completely vaporous, therefore necessitating nonstop aggressive emergency measures.... The perfect enemy for a state that seeks endless war and strives forever to pull the wool over the eyes of its own citizens for purposes of endless robbery and implementing slavery where freedom previously existed would be an enemy who cannot, under any circumstances, ever be caught. ...In the literal sense, this perfect enemy does not exist, which makes [it] perfect for a society determined to make war, because [it] will never be caught and the war can continue forever. The harder an enemy is to find and defeat, the better it is for those who seek to profit from the staged campaign to destroy that enemy.. ”

Perspectives on the Pandemic

YouTube pulled five episodes of Perspectives on the Pandemic, including the video by Dr. Dan Erickson and Dr. Artin Massihi, who own and run an urgent care facility in Kern County, CA. “ We’re all in this together. ”

~ The Covid-19 meme that bombed immediately—starting with Madonna’s bathroom video

G. Pandemic Toons

H. Food for the Soul: Pandemics on Screen

As we read the daily news about Covid, we can perhaps alleviate our frustration by taking a look at this theme through a cinematic lens. We included some zombie movies on the principle that any well-constructed zombie story is really a metaphor for an infection—once infected, a zombie passes it to the next victim who happens along.

FEATURE FILMS

Monty Python and the Holy Grail (UK, 1975)

https://youtu.be/QcbR1J\_4ICg

English literature and art are full of references to the mid-14th-century passage of the Black Death. It's no wonder that Monty Python, the celebrated English comedy group, makes references to it in a scene from a parody of life in the Middle Ages, a skit known as "bring out your dead." This is still a cinematic classic and a reminder that there are countries with a traumatic history of uncontrollable health disasters.

Restoration (U.S., 1995)

<https://youtu.be/CvsAuHYBgEQ>

Starring Robert Downey, Jr. when he was just a very talented actor rather than a superhero action figure, this film is a big-production period drama set during the period of restoration of the monarchy in England in 1660. Downey stars as King Charles II's royal physician during the last great plague in England in 1664-1666 that ended with the Great London Fire. While the main plot is a love story, there are scenes of both healing attempts and their futility in the face of the epidemic.

Outbreak (U.S., 1995)

<https://youtu.be/Y5povsMKfT4>

This was a movie more designed to showcase Dustin Hoffman in action scenes than to analyze global infections, but it was one of the early films that used modern knowledge of pandemics in scenes about the search for the source of infection and the precautions that medical personnel must take. A group of army doctors, led by a character played by Hoffman, tries to trace and contain a new, Ebola-like virus that jumps into humans from African monkeys. Another doctor (Rene Russo) gets infected when her hazmat suit gets torn—drawing attention to the speed and ease with which we are told certain infections can spread.

28 Days Later (UK, 2002)

<https://youtu.be/c7ynwAgQIDQ>

This dystopian horror film portrays England after a virus has turned the population into zombies. Police are trying to enforce female slavery, and a few survivors are trying to navigate the empty streets. Danny (Slumdog Millionaire) Boyle's thriller spawned a whole generation of modern zombie movies, but this one is designed as an allegory of a societal breakdown. There is a 2007 sequel called 28 Weeks Later directed by Juan Carlos Fresnadillo.

I Am Legend (U.S., 2007)

<https://youtu.be/dtKMEAXyPkQ>

The movie derives from Richard Matheson's 1954 novel but retains little other than the title from the original. A cross between a zombie movie and a pandemic disaster dystopia, the movie features now-famous scenes of Will Smith taking long walks with his German shepherd—seemingly the only survivors of a zombie apocalypse. Long walks with your dog during a pandemic.... That bit now seems very prescient.

Doomsday (UK, 2008)

<https://youtu.be/RrUKtJvU3G8>

A thriller about Scotland being locked up in quarantine for decades, the movie's main contribution here is the concept of a national lockdown lasting for years. The movie is uneven, borrowing from John Carpenter's iconic Escape from New York and the Mad Max movies. It has interesting assumptions about containment being really impossible.

Blindness (U.S., 2008)

<https://youtu.be/XvTvP55cxM0>

Julianne Moore and Mark Ruffalo star in this thriller about a sudden epidemic of blindness that strikes a city. It's a tale of survival in a community where the best and the worst human instincts come into play.

Carriers (U.S., 2009)

https://youtu.be/qByFXk\_XRs

Now a classic, this thriller follows four friends who travel in search of a plague-free place and, while on the road, turn on each other. There is no need for monsters—people do everything themselves. Young Chris Pine stars.

Zombieland (U.S., 2009)

<https://youtu.be/8m9EVP8X7N8>

A great, nihilistic comedy, Zombieland showcases the absurdities of American life. However, reality since 2009 has long surpassed the screenwriter's imagination. In this fictional America, you can still buy Pirelli anywhere during the pandemic.

Contagion (U.S., 2011)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4sYSyuuLk5g>

This 2011 movie directed by Steven Soderbergh has the dubious honor of being the most rented movie this year. Gwyneth Paltrow is Patient Zero, and the CDC works like a dream since it is run by Laurence Fishburne. Matt Damon is in his Bourne mode trying to save the world. Jude Law and Kate Winslet are scientists who (spoiler alert!) find and manufacture a vaccine in 87 minutes (the movie's length). Despite these cinematic shortcuts, scenes explaining methods of transmission and the ways in which the fabric of society can tear under pandemic pressure feel very close to home.

Black Death (UK, 2011)

<https://youtu.be/sj3Jw1DLGpA>

This one is more for fans of horror than audiences seeking any realistic insights, but it features great knight-fighting scenes and the British actors Sean Bean and Eddie Redmayne. It is basically an adventure road movie in a medieval setting. A knight and a monk set out to find a village rumored to be immune to the plague. Witchcraft abounds.

World War Z (U.S., 2013)

<https://youtu.be/4EC7P5WdUko>

World War Z is one of the best of the zombie movies. A United Nations researcher travels around the world trying to stop the spread of a zombie pandemic that is destroying one nation after another and threatening to eradicate humanity. Max Brooks' novel is much better than this screen adaptation, but then the movie stars Brad Pitt and has impressive zombie attack scenes. The novel is an allegory of various political systems and societies in the same way that Animal Farm was an allegory of real people and the Russian revolution. The movie is more concerned with the escape from a spreading outbreak and the race to find a cure. The virus is here represented by very picturesque zombies, but they can be easily understood as a metaphor for any infectious disease. Ironically, Pitt in 2020 was tapped to portray Dr. Fauci on Saturday Night Live.

Flu (South Korea, 2013)

https://youtu.be/gt8HD\_Ma7o4

An Ebola-like pandemic runs amok in a South Korean city, and the victims have only 36 hours to live. The city is in quarantine, riots break out, and political infighting starts. While this has not happened in South Korean society during the 2020 pandemic, there are other countries that may recognize their societies in this thriller.

The Last Days (Spain, 2013)<https://youtu.be/PdncALEqTjE>

This is a thriller about social distancing pushed to the extreme. All humans have agoraphobia due to some mysterious virus, so when the protagonist needs to find his girlfriend, he needs to use tunnels and underground passages to avoid lethal exposure. Empty city squares, wildlife crossing deserted streets, empty shopping malls—all of this looks so familiar.

93 Days (Nigeria, 2016)<https://youtu.be/lPeNgs6bMkY>

A fictionalized account of a very real outbreak of Ebola in Africa, the story centers on attempts to contain the virus brought over from Liberia by a Patient Zero to the 21 million city of Lagos in Nigeria.

Pandemic (U.S., 2016)<https://youtu.be/SllHJHISwpo>

Set in the near future and after a viral pandemic has ravaged most of the world, the film tells the story of a doctor (Rachel Nichols) who travels from now-destroyed New York to Los Angeles, seeking survivors. Designed as a game thriller with a maximum of scares per minute, the movie tries to amp up the violence factor, but there are also some scenes of pandemic that could be relatable.

A Train to Busan (South Korea, 2016)<https://youtu.be/pyWuHv2-Abk>

Another zombie horror film, A Train to Busan—set on a train and directed by award-winning director Yeon Sang-ho—is now a genre classic. It builds tension through little vignettes of disturbing occurrences (a dead doe, unusual ambulance traffic, etc.) that draw the attention of a businessman and his teenage daughter on board a commuter train now overrun by zombies. It's a survival story but also a tale of mistrust in whether authorities have citizens' health at heart. A 2020 sequel called Peninsula is a straight zombie apocalypse story.

It Comes at Night (U.S., 2017)<https://youtu.be/6YOYHCBQn9g>

A few years back, virus pandemics were mainly a plot device for horror movies. This one uses this premise as well, telling a bleak story of a couple, stuck in self-imposed isolation in a cabin in the woods, who accept another family into their house. There are no good outcomes here.

Maze Runner: The Death Cure (U.S., 2018)<https://youtu.be/4-BTxXm8KSG>

The final installment of a franchise based on Young Adult books, the dystopian adventure reveals that a mysterious virus called “the Flare” can be cured by antibodies from youngsters—some of whom are immune. This part resonated quite well with current scientific findings that younger populations are largely immune to Covid-19.

Virus (India, 2019)<https://youtu.be/38MijVTyP7s>

The film presents a fictionalized account of the real outbreak of the Nipah virus in Kerala, India. The movie came out in June 2019 and is, therefore, the closest in time to the Covid-19 pandemic events. It shows battles with a lack of resources, administrative barriers, and people's fear of being targeted or infected.

TELEVISION*Containment (2016, 1 season, 13 episodes)<https://youtu.be/5jSHuPcenUM>

This American remake of the Belgian show Cordon was a one-season show about an outbreak in Atlanta. The scope of an epidemic in real life has long since surpassed the imagination of the show's creators, but there are educational scenes showing how the police are used in blocking passages or patrolling streets to isolate an area. The show centers on individuals trying to evade or escape quarantine—an interesting sociological premise.

DOCUMENTARIES*The Virus Empire: The Silent Killer (Germany, 2008)<https://youtu.be/-Sq02G7kqsA>

Interviews with experts along with animation and dramatization are used to describe modern viruses and the havoc they can wreak. The SARS epidemic is the main focus.

Outbreak: Anatomy of a Plague (U.S., 2010)<https://youtu.be/R09Z3q0ka8M>

A documentary that uses a fictionalized story (of a stewardess who unknowingly contracts smallpox and spreads a virus) to analyze the potential of infectious diseases to spread in the modern world.

Insight: Slaughtered on Suspicion (UK, 2015)<https://youtu.be/ujslv10Jw5U>

This UK documentary focuses on the 2001 cattle epidemic of foot and mouth disease. It features Neil Ferguson, an Imperial College professor who was Tony Blair's advisor on the handling of this epidemic. Ferguson was also an advisor during the early days of Covid-19, crafting the UK quarantine policy until his sacking for non-compliance with his own lockdown advice.

Ebola, the Doctors' Story (U.S., 2016)

https://youtu.be/ju5\_9Z4WSdE

This one-hour HBO documentary features interviews with doctors about the Ebola outbreak.

The Flu that Killed 50 Million (UK, 2018)

A one-hour BBC documentary about the 1918 flu pandemic.

American Experience: Influenza 1918 (U.S., 2016)

<https://youtu.be/VCFJPDqKPgc>

John Jones directed this episode from the long-running PBS history series American Experience to give an overview of causes and testimonies about the biggest pandemic the world had ever known... until now.

Deadliest Plague of the 20th Century: Spanish Flu (2018)

<https://youtu.be/UDY5COg2P2c>

This is a popular YouTube documentary that sums up the 1918 pandemic.

Bill Gates: "The Next Outbreak?" (TED Talk, 2015)

https://youtu.be/6Af6b\_wyiwI

No matter what your opinion is about Bill Gates, he did give a now-famous TED talk on unpreparedness for a global flu pandemic.

Pandemic: How to Prevent an Outbreak (TV show, 2020- )

<https://youtu.be/qtMaG5vhCqc>

Netflix's dashboard is displaying front and center a documentary TV show called Pandemic. The show follows several people on the front lines of public health. One is a medical worker in Mali who is trying to prevent an Ebola infection from moving from the countryside to the capital city of Goa. He relentlessly visits Ebola clinics and meets with villagers, keeping a tally of infections and spreading the word about prevention. There is a lot of prescience in the scenes of a New York epidemiologist who lectures that the issue is not "if" the next flu pandemic will come but "when." Her tireless efforts to train New York medical centers on proper epidemic procedures can now be watched with our present-day knowledge of New York City's struggles to contain the virus. The sad thing is that the doctor appears to have been thinking more about some isolated Ebola cases making their way to New York than about an all-encompassing viral pandemic.

Coronavirus (2020 episode of the Netflix show Explained)

<https://youtu.be/sgZ7RkyDrLg>

A follow-up to a Netflix episode called "The Next Pandemic," which aired in November 2019 and was, unfortunately, updated by real events.

PROJECTS IN DEVELOPMENT

Predictably, the entertainment industry is already charging full steam ahead to bring to the screen the "true story" of a lifetime. Here are some of the upcoming movies in pre-production.

Untitled Charles Randolph China project (U.S.)

Charles Randolph is the screenwriter of The Big Short and Bombshell—two hard-hitting social dramas of recent years. He has paired with SK Global, one of the companies that was involved in the production of Crazy Rich Asians, to make his directorial debut, focusing on the early days of the coronavirus pandemic in China.

Songbird (U.S.)

From the action-movie producer Michael Bay (Transformers) and to be directed by Adam Mason (Into the Dark horror series), this is the first movie that will start shooting in Los Angeles since the virus lockdown. The cast includes Demi Moore, Craig Robinson, Paul Walter Hauser, and Peter Stormare. The story is set two years into the future, with a mutated virus continuing to wreak havoc worldwide. A delivery driver, who is immune, is crisscrossing an unnamed city while trying to reunite with his girlfriend.

Untitled TV series about Boris Johnson and the pandemic (UK)

A UK TV series to be directed by Michael Winterbottom will deal with the progression of political, social, and health decisions made in the UK during the pandemic. The series will focus on Boris Johnson and his rise to the position of UK Prime Minister on the eve of the public health crisis—and his handling of it. Johnson, famously, was one of the politicians dismissing the gravity of the situation only to fall gravely ill himself.

ECONOMY & FINANCIAL MARKETS, PRECIOUS METALS, AND CURRENCIES

Story #1: The Covid-19 Currency War: Extend the Old (Global 2.0), Accelerate the New (Global 3.0)

The “Going Direct” plan—the central bankers’ push to preserve their global currency position by controlling everything directly without intermediaries—is not subtle. In the short term, Covid-19 has helped Mr. Global put the small-business economy and most of the planet into a debt trap while increasing key corporations’ market share. However, we need to remember that the new system is “in the invention room.” Many variables are at play, and many factors—including cyberwarfare and the “Midianite thing”—could interfere with the creepy plan to manage seven billion people with cloud-based injectable credit cards.

Story #2: “Going Direct” – Ending Cash and Currency and Building Out the Global Mechanism

Building out a global financial mechanism means not only controlling the sea lanes but controlling space, which includes not just satellites but weaponry. The problem with space is that it is “winner-take-all”—the player who dominates space can control everything on the planet. The U.S. is working hard to win the space race, but it recently admitted—with the official acknowledgement of several UFO videos—that it does not control its own air space. From the perspective of those outside the U.S., a major problem is that the U.S. is not “agreement capable.” Will we see a major realignment among non-U.S. players in the coming years?

Story #3: The “Greatest Wealth Transfer in History” – The War on Independent Income & Ownership

The Covid-19 lockdowns and the rollout of “stormtroopers” to loot and riot across America have forced consumers online, dramatically boosting the market share of companies like Amazon, Zoom, and entities in the online health care space. As many as 85% of independent restaurants in the U.S. may go out of business, but U.S. billionaires are up more than half a trillion dollars—20% of their net worth—and many are poised to pick up real estate cheaply by funneling the proceeds of their February sales of stock into Opportunity Zones. Solari’s mapping of the nearly one-to-one correspondence between the areas where rioting occurred in Minneapolis and the city’s Opportunity Zones is “a picture worth a thousand words.” And let’s not forget that riots took place in 33 of the 37 locations where the Fed has a bank or branch.

Story #4: The AI Superpowers Rebalance the China Trade

A major component of the Covid-19-enabled “Great Reset” appears to be a strategic rebalancing of the U.S.-China trade—just when China was rumored to be about to stop taking U.S. dollars. Other countries (including one-time Silk Road partners) also seem to be reevaluating their relationship with China and questioning China’s attempts to pick a fight with India. As the off-the-charts flooding that is threatening China’s Three Gorges Dam suggests, the rebalancing may be playing out both covertly and overtly. Are we witnessing full-scale weather warfare? If the dam breaks, the stability of Xi Jinping’s regime may be as much in question as the dam’s.

Story #5: Sovereign Bonds vs. Equities and Real Assets

Six months into the Covid-19 lockdowns, we have a world divided into a handful of players who can print currency versus the rest of the world—caught in the “mother” of all debt entrapments and left with sovereign bonds of questionable worth. Are we headed toward the “mother” of all debt/equity swaps, with taxpayers’ real estate and other assets on the hook? The private entity—BlackRock—that has been given free rein to reengineer the global economy (including “managing” vast sums of money for the Fed and various government pension funds), conveniently, is beyond the reach of FOIA or any other mechanism to ensure transparency.

Story #6: Mr. Global Pushes the Red Button

Mr. Global may have pushed the red button, but some powerful players have been pushing back, including a German Interior Ministry official who leaked documents denouncing Covid-19 as a “global false alarm,” and the Catholic church’s Archbishop Viganò (former Vatican ambassador to the U.S.) who, along with leading Cardinals circulated an elegant letter condemning world leaders’ use of the pandemic as a pretext to control populations. Unfortunately, Mr. Global has been busy mobilizing vast sums of taxpayer money to create a dangerous contact tracing army that will be empowered to enforce quarantines and seize children. The individuals promoting this agenda—ranging from the Queen of England to WHO officials to Epstein Air’s “frequent flyers”—are highly placed, and the American people need to face up to the risks. However, when you try to take away people’s children, you could be playing with fire.

Story #7: U.S. Government Scenarios: Cut & Run, Radical Reengineering, Implosion, or Zombie Nation?

The “magic virus” has managed to create a projected $500 billion deficit for U.S. state governments (an amount that matches up neatly to the increased wealth of U.S. billionaires), and Covid-19 is also being used as the advance cover story for an emptied-out Social Security Trust Fund later this decade. In addition, the push to get local police out of the way—against the wishes of at least 86% of Americans—is conveniently timed to make it easier for corporations to steamroll over local laws and reengineer places via Opportunity Zones. Thus far, mind control, entrainment, and divide-and-conquer appear to be working rather well—especially with the concurrent shuttering of churches and cultural institutions—but the hypermaterialist model never adequately accounts for the fact that all humans and all life have a spiritual component.

Story #8: Global Jockeying for Power

With the transition to a multipolar model, we are seeing a blossoming of “tinhorn tyrants” (and, in all likelihood, FASAB-56-financed mercenaries) all over the world. But perhaps the biggest news item of the quarter was the border clash between two of the big players—India and China—which not only did not go as China intended but may have spurred the geopolitical breakdown of BRICS, further isolated China, and given Russia an opening to step into the breach. Meanwhile, other parties (Japan and Germany chief among them) are watching the widespread internal instability in the U.S. and—seeing that the U.S. is not a reliable ally—are strongly hinting that they intend to rearm.

Story #9: The Drumbeats of War

There are many signs that the space race is heating up, including Japan's talk about space-based "rod of God" weaponry and India's continued launching of large numbers of satellites. In the U.S., contrary to most other countries, the private sector is the dominant player in space, which gives the corporations a lot of power. Is the Space Force President Trump's attempt to restore some government control over this all-important domain?

Story #10: Cui Bono? Winners and Losers

So far, the clear Covid-19 winners are the billionaires and the biopharma cartel. Gun shops are also faring well—gun sales are off the charts, and many Americans who could never previously fathom why one would carry a gun are waking up and buying firearms. On the other side of the equation, the American people are big losers, and with the huge hit to state and local governments, we can expect a big round of layoffs next year when it comes time to balance budgets. Covid-19 has also decimated travel, tourism, and the arts—a sad state of affairs considering that these are the things that help us learn from and understand one another.

CULTURE

Story #11: Celebrating the Best of 2nd Quarter Culture

With the widespread attacks on history, churches and the arts, it is more important than ever to “own the culture” and not let what is transcendent and beautiful atrophy. (Listening to Solari’s new Food for the Soul podcasts with Nina Heyn can help.) The American people also need to stop spending money on things that debase the culture and start supporting people like Congressman Thomas Massie and local sheriffs who believe in freedom. In this full-on culture war, take every opportunity to make a positive impact and push back.

Story #12: Zombie Management 101 – Interacting with the Mind-Controlled and Fear-Porned

It can be challenging to interact with people who don't understand or can't fathom what is going on, or who are fully sold on the official story. With the escalating violence, the illusion of physical security is also going by the wayside. The 2nd Quarter 2020 Wrap Up is intended to serve as a toolkit that pulls together the best information for disassembling the narrative. It is also time to take action and finance our "army" (see the Solari Take Action Crowdfund). If each of us does what we can, it will make a difference.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Story #13: Wireless Technology – 5G, Crowd Control, and EMF Radiation and Weaponry

Arthur Firstenberg's The Invisible Rainbow about the history of electricity and Forrest Mearns' books about the history of vaccines delineate the serious problems that arise—including the inability to think clearly—when we are poisoned by manmade electromagnetic radiation and heavy metals. We know that 5G, nanoparticles, and bioelectronic injections will compound these problems. With robotics getting ready to come into full swing, it looks like Mr. Global has no plan to slow down the poisoning of bodies and minds. However, when we see Navy ships going in circles without a clue how to properly navigate, it's a sign that dumbing down the population has consequences.

Story #14: Transhumanism – Creepy Technology in Hotel Auschwitz

In June, we saw the Supreme Court apply the 1964 Civil Rights Act to LGBTQ people with its Bostock v. Clayton County decision. This could be an indication that the transhumanist agenda to redefine biology and culture is proceeding. Since the start of the pandemic, we have also seen one creepy technology introduced after another, including about 175 Covid-19 “toxines” in preclinical or clinical evaluation. We can expect an immense amount of experimentation and prototyping—all, of course, violating the Nuremberg Code. However, “people who win in a rigged game get stupid,” and this shotgun approach could backfire. Hypermaterialists forget that they share the morphogenic field with the people they are trying to mind-control.

Story #15: Inventions – Global 2.0 to 3.0 Accelerates

CERN (the European Center for Nuclear Research) is gearing up for a 20-billion-euro, 100-kilometer collider that would be four times the size and six times as powerful as the Large Hadron Collider (already the largest machine in the world). It has never been clear what CERN is up to, though it seems likely that particle physics is just the cover story. Why the willingness to spend billions of euros on a new collider, when physicists are saying that the return on investment will be low? Are we talking about geoplanetary engineering on an unprecedented scale? Is CERN looking for physical proof of other dimensions? And why does China want to build its own collider?

SPACE

Story #16: Space as War-Fighting Domain

The Artemis Accords and the push by Japan and Germany to build out a 4G network on the moon remind us that a lot is happening in space. The U.S. has indicated that it wants to be “warp-capable” within a century. This suggests that SpaceX’s outdated chemical rockets may be a sideshow—though perhaps a useful one for getting young people interested in space engineering or the Space Force. In light of the Pentagon’s recent UFO disclosures, the invasive contact tracing and testing measures being rolled out for the coronavirus pandemic raise questions about possible covert agendas to identify groups that are genetic outliers—human-looking, but not Homo sapiens sapiens?

FOOD AND HEALTH

Story #17: SARS CoV-2 – Does It Exist, Is It a Virus or Pathogen, Was It Engineered?

There are so many odd and awkward aspects to the coronavirus story: the involvement of Harvard bioelectronics expert Charles Lieber, the clustering of outbreaks along the 40th parallel north and also around 5G networks, Fauci's connections to Wuhan, and the fact that political leaders were advised early to take hydroxychloroquine prophylactically, to name just a few. The patterns suggest that this could be a "virus" that can be turned on and off at will with cellular technology. Not only is it likely that this could be done remotely, but the heavy metals and nanoparticles already in our bodies (from global spraying and injections) would make the electromagnetic signal more efficient. Another puzzling aspect is that while there has been a frenzy of insider trading at the top of the political pyramid, at the local level, government officials seem entirely willing to adhere to a plan that is going to destroy their tax base and bankrupt their cities. Whatever the behind-the-scenes story is, the financial patterns make it clear that the official story is ludicrous.

Story #18: Radical Reengineering of Global Agriculture and Food

Manmade electromagnetic radiation and pesticides are decimating pollinator and other insect populations, and 5G will make things worse. Meanwhile, fake foods are proliferating at an alarming pace, including fake meat and fake mother's milk. We continue to emphasize the importance of supporting local farmers and ranchers to ensure access to real food. In that regard, it is worth paying attention to Solari's Food Series, hosted by Pete Kennedy (one of the founding attorneys of the Farm-to-Consumer Legal Defense Fund). Subscribers in the U.S. should also persuade their congressional representatives to support Congressman Massie's PRIME Act.

Story #19: The Great Poisoning – the Injection Fraud and VAXXED Wars

The big-picture issue that we must sooner or later confront is that our taxes are financing our own poisoning. On a practical level, people are already grappling with how to say no to the injection fraud. We are seeing states, university systems, and employers making flu shots mandatory and discussing mandatory Covid-19 injections. One key response is to support the legal army that we will need. There is no reason not to become a member of and support Children's Health Defense, which now has state chapters in California and New York as well as a newly launched European chapter. Be sure to also review the other resources listed in this Wrap Up.

Story #20: Geophysical Risks

Many mysterious geophysical risks are becoming evident, including an increase in seismic activity and the flooding in China (not to mention, as Dr. Farrell discussed on Giza Death Star, hints of time reversals and parallel universes). We should not be surprised if human incoherence and the anti-life model that erroneously views humans as a closed system begins to produce more ripple effects and encounter more pushback from nature. Beware, too, linguistic agendas that cloak fascism in clever cover terms like “Green New Deal.”

TAKE ACTION

Support Great Leadership

The governor of South Dakota, Kristi Noem, is an example of great leadership. Right after she made the decision not to shut her state down, small businessmen in the capitol got together and did an impromptu parade in her honor. She also gets kudos for tweeting “Not on my watch” when people started talking about tearing down Mt. Rushmore. Most important, though, is to know your sheriff and know who is on your city council. Focus on the nuts and bolts: Where is your food, energy, and safety going to come from?

- Take Action Crowdfund (Donations)

Great Actions

The U.S. saw many great actions during the 2nd quarter, including the crowdfund to support Dallas hairdresser Shelley Luther, which raised over $500,000 practically overnight. Small farmers have also been rising to the occasion, teaching friends and neighbors how to start gardens and grow food quickly. Within the federal government, Senator Rand Paul and Congressman Thomas Massie have both displayed immense courage, as has attorney Sidney Powell. Internationally, the Hong Kong youth deserve credit for perhaps being the “smartest group of protestors on the planet” and figuring out intelligent ways to push back against central control.

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

There are more unanswered questions than ever. The “global reset,” the rollout of technology, and the failure of the unipolar model signaled unprecedented—and accelerating—changes.

Question #1: How important are invisible and secret weaponry and technology to the replacement of global currency systems with crypto-control systems?

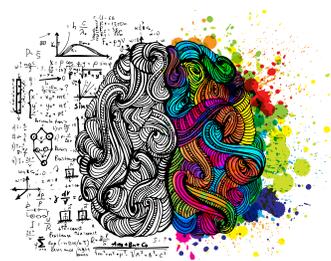

Implementation of a global cryptosystem requires a massive amount of computing power that will necessitate a paradigm shift in computing technology. Could “biocomputers” be an intended part of this picture? Microsoft’s patents point in the direction of bioactivity-driven computing—and may help explain the accelerated push for bioelectronic “toxines” and 5G. Mr. Global’s real estate shenanigans may also make more sense when we remember U.S. Air Force studies (conducted in the 1960s) about space-based microwave power systems; the studies showed that the Earth-based collectors for this microwave energy would produce zones so “hot” that all life within a 140-mile radius would be impossible.

Question #2: Where did Mr. Global invest the $21 trillion, the $24+ trillion, and where is the new 2020 central bank and fiscal stimulus going? Cui bono Covid-19?

We may not know where the missing money went, but we do know that the “magic virus” is being used to extinguish all legal liabilities.

Question #3: Why is there a great poisoning underway? Why is there an ongoing global program to increase the levels of aluminum, other heavy metals, and nanoparticles or nanotechnology in humans? Is the push for Neuralink because humans will be more intelligent accessing AI, easier to control and integrate with robots, or because the elites want and need access to uniquely human intelligence and consciousness?

Neuroscience indicates that it would require 11 spatial dimensions to mathematically describe the functions of the human brain. No matter how sophisticated, all AI and supercomputing is based on a limited kind of intelligence—mere reasoning—while human intelligence is so much more, including intuition, passions, emotions, and nonlocal intelligence. When humans are in alignment with divine intelligence, our reach and intelligence are astounding. It looks like the current battle for human consciousness may be an effort to stop us from thinking hyperdimensionally.

Question #4: High-tech risks: Should we beware high-tech fires, the push for immortality, DNA editing, 5G+ mind control and assassinations, and the interbreeding of humans with other species? What else?

The tech billionaires are like cavemen with a laser gun. They do not seem interested in achieving eternal life the old-fashioned way—through grace—but seem to be governed by a short-sighted belief that technology can shortcut them into a facsimile of immortality.

Question #5: Will the U.S. or Israel go to war in Iran? Will India start a war with Pakistan? When will China invade Taiwan? Has the U.S. invaded Venezuela? Will the U.S. and China go to war, or separate the Internet and financial markets? Are China and the U.S. pitted in a win-lose position in the orbital platform and space race? What about Russia? How far might other countries' conquests go once it becomes clear the U.S. will no longer play global cop?

We have entered World War III, and the motif seems to be “the centralizers against every person on the planet.” Things could get hotter both internationally and domestically. In the U.S., where political discourse has broken down and cultural civil war has taken hold, few seem likely to accept the election results peacefully.

Question #6: How will the U.S. government and central bank be reengineered after FASAB 56, the 2020 ops and elections, and after the JEDI contract is in place? Is the Plunge Protection Team being reengineered or privatized?

FASAB 56 and the cloud computing contracts laid the groundwork for the “Going Direct” global reset—an inhuman vision if ever there was one. If we want to have a human future, we have to own the culture and work to preserve the things that give value above and beyond mere survival. Mr. Global's values are not our values. Now, more than ever, is the time to “speak life into our situation” and see where life grows.

Question #7: What will happen to U.S. land and real estate as a result of changes underway? What about the existing energy model?

Radical breakthroughs in energy that lead to a dramatically lower cost of energy will mean radical changes in real estate use. If you are a property owner, be prepared to defend it and to support sheriffs who can help.

Question #8: Who is Mr. Global, what is the governance structure on Planet Earth, and what are the risk issues that are driving Mr. Global's actions?

Mr. Global is acting panicked, desperate, and in a hurry—but isn't willing to say why. Part of it may be that people around the world are waking up, and Mr. Global is afraid of a Spartacus revolt. However, there also seems to be a fear-based acceleration of steps toward a multiplanetary civilization. With this level of secrecy and chaos, integrity is impossible. How do we foster a model that instead works through informal open cooperation and culture to build something life-affirming?

Question #9: Which is stranger—what is going on behind the veil of secrecy, or the overwhelming effort to pretend it is not going on and to create an official reality diverging steadily from reality?

The U.S. is headed toward a situation resembling Atlas Shrugged, with one part of the country rooted in reality and productivity, the other believing that they can manipulate assets on a computer screen, and the two growing further and further apart. When the trucking industry starts saying, “We're not going to deliver to a city that defunds the police,” we know that we may be on the brink of a major societal rupture. The people doing concrete work are not going to put up with the Silicon Valley and Wall Street types who produce nothing but destructive rules and financial fraud. If we lose reserve currency status and their black-budget and government subsidy is swept away, will they know how to take care of a cow?

Question #10: Given the tsunami of occult and demonic practices and symbols, should we be concerned about the interaction between AI and interdimensional intelligence?

If Satan is an interdimensional intelligence, why would we want to risk allowing an AI-enabled satanic takeover of our governance system? Watch the documentary Out of the Shadows if you want to understand the demonic practices—pedophilia and adrenochrome among them—that frequently propel someone’s move “up the ladder.”

Question #11: Who is burning the churches of France and why?

There is a global war on churches—although not in Russia, which just dedicated a new cathedral. While the cover story may be that Muslims are the ones burning down France’s churches, we must suspect that Mr. Global is behind it. When Notre Dame burned, even the most secular Frenchmen came out to pray for its survival, realizing that they had been taking its cultural and spiritual importance for granted. In the U.S., it is shocking how little churches have pushed back against Covid-19 restrictions.

Question #12: What are the supporting facts and arguments for optimism?

We are up against an inhuman slavery model that is backed up by all the money and power in the material world, but technocrats’ lack of understanding of life is their inherent weakness. We are the bearers of the culture—and that puts us in a uniquely advantageous position. This may be a 10,000-year war, but there are many reasons for optimism. The way that we lost the country was one county at a time, and we can take it back one county at a time. Remember, too, that this is first and foremost a spiritual war, and prayer is important. Stay tuned for a future Solari Report on optimism.

VI. Closing & Credits

The 2nd Quarter of 2020 was an unusual time. The central bankers proceeded with the long-awaited “global reset,” marketed under the air cover of a pandemic and interspersed with revivals of climate change pitches. The air was thick with lies, uncertainty, and fear.

There is nothing better for the soul at times like these than being focused. I was in the Netherlands creating Solari Europa with Robert Dupper and shifting our Wrap Up design and printing to Europe. I was also in the midst of writing The State of Our Currencies. Although sorting through the story and facts surrounding the pandemic significantly delayed the process, ultimately, the pandemic also made writing the Wrap Up easier. The leadership push for transhumanism was coming out of the closet, making it less difficult to openly discuss.

The Solari team was lucky, having had the benefit of two decades of close collaboration with Jon Rappoport. We understood that we had already lived through many prior attempts at creating and using epidemics to justify increased central control—each time having the benefit of Jon’s insights. While 2020 represents the first time that the medical cartel has been able to get a pandemic to go global in a significant way, it would have been impossible to understand without a firm grasp of the history and the machinery built up over many decades. In addition to Jon’s valuable deciphering, the materials in Solari’s publications on Control 101 and Deep State Tactics 101 helped keep us focused on the underlying patterns and trends.

We also had the benefit of numerous allies and subscribers in the Solari network who have significant experience and expertise in health and medicine. Their regular feedback and intelligence—from around the world—was invaluable. We live in a world in which hundreds of specific, detailed reports about on-the-ground experience are much more valuable than aggregated news sources.

Finally, we had the benefit of watching the financial flows—a dead giveaway to what was really happening. I realized the enormous benefits of mapping the money as opposed to listening to the media shriek-o-meter. Without that grounding in financial patterns, we would have been ingesting large amounts of the incoherence that has defined this moment in time.

“May the peace of the Lord Christ go with you, wherever He may send you.
May he guide you through the wilderness, protect you through the storm.
May he bring you home rejoicing at the wonders he has shown you.”

~Celtic Daily Prayer, Book One – The Journey Begins

Words cannot express how grateful I am to be part of this effort—an effort characterized by many people dedicated to the truth, to helping each other, and to building a human future in the face of gut-wrenching harm that is systematically working to reduce businesses, families, and communities to “nothing.” My personal experience with the U.S. leadership has taught me that they are slavers—they practice and believe in slavery. As they implement transhumanism and put into place the legal machinery to kidnap and control children, this aspect is coming out of the closet as well. Perhaps this coming out of the closet means that we can finally deal with it. It reminds me of a challenge posed in the documentary The Social Dilemma: “How do you wake up from the matrix, if you don’t know there is a matrix?”

The 2nd Quarter 2020 had a profound impact on me. Twenty-five years previously, in 1995, I entered a lengthy period of being targeted, shunned, and isolated. My business and personal wealth were destroyed unnecessarily by falsehoods and phony allegations. My relationships with family, friends, and colleagues were almost all destroyed. I was marked as someone to be shunned and avoided. I lived with constant lies being circulated about me, my business, and my personal life. I also lived without physical safety, as the target of off-and-on physical harassment. In 2006, I believed that after proving all the allegations false, things might improve, but I was wrong. The search for truth turned out to be a much more isolating and expensive path than I could have dreamed possible. But I stuck with it—knowing that the central bankers and their intelligence networks would continue to grow and harvest. Like the Beck Brothers in the series Yellowstone, the dirty tricks would continue until the middle of the road was eaten away.

Since March of 2020, I feel like a person living life in reverse. As I move out of the isolation that was the result of the path I chose, I am watching as billions of people are being forced into a process that is destroying their livelihoods, businesses, and savings, requiring them to work remotely under constant surveillance, and increasingly isolating them from family, friends, colleagues, and communities—all achieved with a thicket of lies. As I feel my fellow man’s grief and pain from the first few months of that process, I remember what the beginning felt like for me, and I appreciate what it took to live and walk through two decades of it.

Somehow, it brings perspective. It also brings ideas on how Solari can help. One of the most important insights we can offer is that this is a war—the goal is to get you to give up—to let go of life, even kill yourself. Don't fall for it.

This journey began with my effort to realign the Popsicle Index* with the Dow Jones Index—to create a win-win relationship between living and financial equity. As you look around the world at the lawlessness and extraordinary destruction of trust that comes with central control by invasive digital and criminal means, it is worth thinking about the many people in your life who support and raise your Popsicle Index. My life is now full of many people who do. In fact, the 2nd Quarter 2020 was defined by my gratitude for them and their presence in my life. They are indeed part of the “wonders that Christ has shown me.”

The Solari team and I have many people to thank for making the Solari Report great in the 2nd Quarter 2020.

Jason Bawden-Smith

Jason continues to keep the Solari networks informed on biophysics and how to stay healthy in a wireless world.

Robert Dupper

Robert is Solari's videographer, graphics guru, creative inspiration, and anchor in the Netherlands and a founding partner of Solari Europa.

Brad Eddins

Brad is Solari's News Trends & Stories Wrap Up editor and does a yeoman's job preparing that section of the Wrap Ups. Brad also manages the Take Action section at solari.com.

Bronwen Evans

Bronwen provides us with a much-needed eye on Southeast Asia that reflects extensive experience in global journalism, business and finance, and building local ecosystems.

Dr. Joseph P. Farrell

Joseph joins us for our quarterly News Trends & Stories analysis. There is simply nothing else like it. It was Joseph who persuaded me to expand our coverage of culture. It has made a life-giving difference. We also gather essential insights weekly from Joseph's work at Giza Death Star.

Ulrike Granöger

Ulrike has been shifting our paradigms with the latest revelations in spiritual practice and science in her incredible workshops and the Solari Future Science Series.

Matt Hale

Attorney Matt Hale has been helping me with questions in Ask Catherine as the technocratic thicket of laws and regulations grows.

Nina Heyn

Nina continues to delight us with her Food for the Soul columns as she sleuths out great art, great museums, and great movies. In the 2nd Quarter, cancelling her Food for the Soul travel arrangements was a big job, but it did not stop her from doing an amazing job and producing wonderful content for her biweekly column, her Food for the Soul section for each Wrap Up, and her new podcast series.

Pete Kennedy

As the host of the Solari Food Series, attorney Pete Kennedy has been helping us understand and support the farmers, legislators, and litigators who are protecting our right to grow and market fresh local food.

Najat Madry

Najat's columns on New York's debates about statues, masks, and what ails us offer tremendous insights into what has been happening at an intimate level in America this year.

Thomas Meyer and his clan

Thomas grasped my interest in Rudolf Steiner and my passion for the Story of Gideon and Chartres and has been educating and inspiring me about them ever since.

Brigitte Mouchet

Brigitte inspires and educates us to maintain our strength and vitality in the Solari Wellness Series.

Rambus

Rambus provides truly the best technical analysis anywhere for our quarterly Equity Overviews.

Jon Rappoport

Jon Rappoport's decades of research and writing on health care and the use of the medical cartel to engineer central control has made it possible for us to "jump the curve" on pandemic propaganda.

The Saker

The Saker is a unique voice helping us each quarter to understand the emergence of a multipolar world.

Dr. Mark Skidmore

Mark continues his efforts to research the missing money, providing several updates in 2020—it is some of the most original, fearless scholarship on the planet.

Snozrap

Snozrap is the gifted artist who makes our Solari Toons. He does a remarkable job of helping us maintain our state of amusement.

John Titus

As a long-time admirer of John's work and videos at his Best Evidence channel, I asked John to join me as a regular on Money & Markets to assist with central bank watching—having his insights and humor on Money & Markets is one of the great developments of 2020.

Jason Worth

Jason continues to provide highly capable research and excellent book reviews.

Where are the great scholars and fearless thinkers when you need them? They are right here on The Solari Report!

Most of all, the thanks of the entire Solari team go to our subscribers. Thank you for your ideas, links, comments, and insights, and for putting gas in our tanks. You are one of the most remarkable networks of people on the planet today. The Solari vision is to grow as an intelligence network that serves each other—and all humanity—in living a free and inspired life. Each day, you inspire us with the confidence that such a vision is unfolding before our very eyes.

On behalf of the entire Solari team, I wish you the joys of creation and prosperity as we move through unprecedented times.

~ Catherine Austin Fitts

Knowledge is more than power. It's also independence.

Catherine and the Solari Report team want you to have both. You get a source of actionable intelligence that can help you recognize risks and opportunities. But you also get a cold, hard, and useful look at the global political and financial systems.

Catherine Austin Fitts was a Wall Street and Washington insider in the '80s and '90s when globalization and corruption took over at the expense of local economies and people.

Catherine fought and then bypassed the system and now advises her subscribers and investors on how to navigate the risks in today's economy.

How The Solari Report works

The Solari Report publishes weekly Money & Markets briefings on current political and economic events by Catherine (36 a year) as well as weekly presentations and interviews with special guests chosen for their expertise and integrity (52 a year) in a wide variety of areas that impact subscribers' health and wealth.

Each interview is published as an audio with a commentary and video excerpt, followed by a written transcript. Additional special reports and alerts take place several times a year.

What you get as a subscriber

Annual and Quarterly Wrap Ups that summarize the top news, trends, and stories, provide a rich selection of financial market charts, and in-depth analysis of the most important trends impacting the economy. With Solari Report Wrap Ups, you are on top of the news with very little of your precious time.

Exclusive access to an online area of our website (Solari.com) which provides you with our library of Solari Reports published since 2008.

Weekly email updates announcing the next Solari Report along with top picks from Solari.com and information about our luncheons and other events as Catherine travels.

Access to a Subscriber Portal and subscriber-only articles that allows you to post comments and questions to Catherine. Top questions are answered on Catherine's weekly briefing.

Why we're different

Many subscription services focus on a single topic such as investments, precious metals, health, or politics. The Solari Report provides commentary and analysis on all areas that impact your time, your health, and your wealth as well as those that impact your responsibilities as a family and community member and citizen and taxpayer.

We want you to live a free and inspired life—so we seek to integrate all aspects of the world around us that impact you.
